British Warships Held In Readiness Near Constantinople

Turkish Nationalists Thought to Be Concentrating Forces to Attack City; London Newspapers Say Allies May Have to Take Measures.

London, July 6.—Great Britain, France and Italy may be compelled to adopt extensive and concerted measures against the Turkish Nationalists, it was declared by a number of London newspapers this morning. Reports that the Nationalists have actually penetrated the neutral zone east of Constantinople and along the Sea of Marmara have not been confirmed, but there is reason to fear they are concentrating forces to attack Constantinople. The situation has given rise to serious anxiety.

Malta, July 6.—Virtually the entire British Mediterranean Fleet, with all the attendant ships, including the aircraft vessel Pegasus, is en route for or concentrated within easy reach of Constantinople, where the situation is viewed with some alarm. It is said that British military reinforcements also will go out from England.

Never before has the harbor of Malta been so empty. Even the reserve ships here are destined for the east and the vessels which recently sailed in that direction carried large supplies of munitions.

In view of these movements the commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, Admiral De Robeck, who was expected here July 21, is not expected now to come.

The only exceptions to the naval movement eastward are five vessels of the light cruiser squadron under Admiral Tyrwhitt, which are at Alexandria.

In Neutral Zone.
Turkish Nationalist forces are reported to have penetrated the neutral zone east of Constantinople and to be preparing to concentrate forces along the Sea of Marmara for an attack on the Turkish capital.

The situation has given rise to serious anxiety and the Allied High Commissioners at Constantinople have been conferring with General Harrington, commander of the Allied forces there, regarding steps to be taken in the event of a probable advance by the Nationalists.

By Force.
General Harrington will have no alternative but to resist an advance to the utmost for the purpose of securing respect for the neutral zone established by the Entente and insuring free navigation of the Straits in accordance with the terms of the Treaty of Sevres.

Fighting.
Paris, July 6.—Serious fighting has occurred in the neighborhood of Baghdad, about seventy miles southwest of Brusa. Minor, says a Figaro dispatch quoting an official statement issued by the Turkish Nationalist military headquarters.

CROP REPORTS SAY RAIN NEEDED
British Columbia and Saskatchewan Most Favored

Ottawa, July 6.—Telegraphic crop reports for the various provinces at the end of June were issued to-day by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. All the provinces but Saskatchewan and British Columbia need rain over a part of their area.

In Nova Scotia, cool weather has helped to offset damage from drought and the crops look healthy, though prospects are below the average. New Brunswick reports all crops suffering for want of moisture and hay on dry land is almost a total failure.

From Quebec the reports are that prospects for an excellent yield have disappeared, and in default of immediate rain, the crops will be poor. The harvest will be fairly.

Ontario.
The Ontario Department of Agriculture reports hay cutting general, with a light crop. Fall wheat is promising, and spring grain looks well but short in straw.

Manitoba reports prospects above the average. The Alberta Department reports a dry month except in the north, and crops have been injured throughout the South and extreme East. If rain comes soon, the prospects are for a fair crop.

TOO WARM NOW IN EASTERN CANADA
People Suffering; Crop Losses in Ontario

Toronto, July 6.—No relief is in sight from the heat wave. At 3 o'clock this morning the thermometer stood at 89. It was a hot night and many thousands of people slept out in the parks, while bathing at the beaches went on well into the early morning hours.

Day by day the mercury has recorded a new high point, the Toronto official maximum of 96 on Monday going to 98 yesterday, with prospects of the even 100 to-day, while the humidity stands around thirty.

The sky is murky with smoke from northern bush fires, but a breeze is blowing up this morning off the lake.

INDIANS FORCED TO BE CANNIBALS

Not Enough Deer North of Alberta

Mounted Police Going to Investigate

Port McMurray, Alta., July 6.—A terrible story of starving Indians of the Caribou tribe has just reached the headquarters of the Mounted Police at Fort Smith. Human bones were brought in as evidence of cases of cannibalism. Mounted Police have left to investigate.

Strangely, a few years ago, caribou were so plentiful that the Indians ate only the tongues, which are held as a delicacy, slaughtering the animals in thousands. The prophecy was then made, that in that district the caribou would disappear, and this has happened, hence the starvation.

CHILDREN SOLD IN SOUTH CHINA

Wives Also Sold, Famine Workers Discover

Peking, July 6.—Statistics on the sale of children, wives and daughters-in-law in the South China District prepared by the International Famine Relief Committee, though covering but a fraction of the entire famine area, indicate the extent of the traffic carried on. Between deaths and sales, many villages have been completely stripped of children.

The prices appear to have ranged from one dollar to $150, with one instance reported of a girl bringing $550.

Evasion.
Although the traffic was due primarily to poverty, it appears from the investigation made that dealers worked upon the cupidity of fathers and husbands in many cases and resorted to adopt measures to evade the law and recruit victims for various questionable purposes. There were instances of regular marriage papers being executed. Others used contracts of sale, either for life or for a stated term of years.

The uses for which purchases were made have been classified as follows: adopted children, wives, concubines, actors, servants and prostitutes.

Many parents too poor to support their offspring attempted to give them away when no purchasers were to be found.

ESQUIMALT PLANS MONSTER PICNIC

Merchants Arrange Big Feature For Kiddies July 27

Hundreds of Esquimalt children, accompanied by their mothers, will be treated to a monster picnic at the beautiful Goldstream picnic grounds by the Esquimalt Merchants' Association on Wednesday, July 27.

A meeting of the Association was held last night in Lang's drug store, when final details were arranged.

Mothers of Esquimalt are invited to bring their children in good time to catch the motor cars which will assemble at two points, leaving the corner of Head Street and Esquimalt Road and the corner of Admiral's Road and Esquimalt Road at nine o'clock promptly.

Transportation is provided free of charge and tickets will be issued for the affair, which will take the form of a basket picnic. Mothers are asked to bring their picnic delicacies and cups but no tea, as the Association has arranged to serve free tea on the grounds.

WORLD CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR EVENT IN NEW YORK

New York, July 6.—(Canadian Press)—Special trains from Canada will arrive in New York 1,000 Canadian delegates to attend the sixth world's Christian Endeavor Convention, which will open here to-night.

The concluding session will be held next Monday. Included in the Canadian delegation are representatives from all parts of the Dominion.

Decision To Be Made On Canadian Railway Wages

Montreal, July 6.—The railway labor situation in Canada will reach a climax this week. The refusal of the general chairman of the United States railway union to accept a 10 per cent. wage increase for acceptance or rejection of the twelve per cent. wage cut effective last Friday has thrown the situation into the air.

Canadian railway workers planned to state their attitude as soon as the United States Brotherhoods gave a decision. The United States workers have given the proposition a two-months' hold in order to obtain a vote of the men themselves, and if the Canadian unions follow the same course the Canadian wage cut would not become effective until September 1 at the earliest, provided the conciliatory basis of adjustment was continued in operation by the Canadian lines.

The companies have already protected themselves to some extent by giving notice which will take the form of a definite announcement regarding application of the wage cut will be among the major considerations.

No formal replies regarding the tentative agreement submitted by the companies on June 17 have been received, it was stated to-day. The men have said that they do not favor the wage cut, but beyond that the situation has not progressed.

AIRSHIPS OF "BLIMP" TYPE USED ABOVE CANADIAN FORESTS

Camp Borden, July 6.—Two airships of the "blimp" type were shipped from here yesterday to be used by the Keewatin Lumber Company in the Lake of the Woods district.

Under the direction of Lieut.-Colonel Mulock, D. S. O., formerly of the Naval Air Service, they will be used for forest patrol work as well as aerial photography. They are being lent by the Air Board so that reports on their capabilities may be made by the lumber company.

High School Discipline Bad; Principal Is Too Autocratic, Is Report

Investigators Say One Teacher Stirs Up Trouble; Recommend Appointment of Vice-Principal But No Dismissals at Present; Think Principal Should Supervise More and Teach Less.

Discipline in the Victoria High School is poor and is becoming worse. There is a lack of co-operation between the Principal, Dr. Alexander Robinson, and the staff, and one teacher disturbs the harmony of the institution by discussing the work of other teachers with their pupils. The Principal is too autocratic and should spend more time in supervising the school and less in teaching. He should, moreover, give his staff definite instructions on all points in connection with administration. A vice-principal should be appointed immediately, but no dismissal of any member of the staff should be made at present.

These are among the findings of D. L. MacLaurin, Principal of the Normal School, and R. Ferguson, Principal of the King Edward High School, Vancouver, the investigators who, on the instructions of the Department of Education, have completed a thorough enquiry into conditions at the High School.

A copy of the investigators' report was received by the Board of Education yesterday and since that time has remained sealed up. It will be opened for the first time when the school board meets in special session to-night. So far neither the Secretary or the Trustees have seen the report, it was declared at the Board's offices to-day. The utmost secrecy has been maintained with regard to the investigators' findings, but the recommendations mentioned above, it was learned by The Times to-day, are the main features of the report.

The School Board may act on the report to-night or postpone a decision until the Trustees can look into the investigators' findings further. The Trustees have declared repeatedly that they intend to carry out to the limit whatever recommendations were made in the report.

Recommended No Dismissals.
It had been expected that several dismissals from the staff might be the sequel to the investigation. In fact, the probe was the indirect result of the threat of the School Board to dismiss five teachers if their work did not improve. It is understood, however, that the Board has recommended that no member of the High School staff be dismissed at the present time.

The investigators urge, secondly, that the Principal Robinson should devote more time to the supervision of the school. At present, they state, he spends too much time teaching and too little superintending the general administration of the institution.

Thirdly, the investigators recommend that Dr. Robinson should instruct all members of his staff fully on all points connected with the administration of the school. This, it is thought, will help to do away with the present lack of harmony between the principal and his teachers.

Want Vice-Principal.
Appointment of a vice-principal is probably one of the most important recommendations made in the report and is considered particularly significant.

The Trustees will not be surprised in the least at the statement in the report that the harmony of the school is disturbed by one member of the staff who is in the habit of discussing the work of other teachers with their pupils. This has been known at least since the last year.

5500,000 FIRE IN GUELPH TO-DAY

Factory and Seven Other Buildings Burned

Guelph, Ont., July 6.—Fire which was discovered in a pile of lumber at the Robert Stewart Company, Upper Wyndham Street, early this morning, did damage which is roughly estimated at $550,000. The Stewart Company lost its entire plant, the loss being estimated at $200,000.

Besides the Stewart factory, seven other buildings were destroyed. The blaze is believed to have been caused by combustion, as a slight explosion was heard just prior to the outbreak.

FOREST FIRES IN SECTIONS OF QUEBEC
Reports Indicate Great Damage Being Done

Quebec, July 6.—Fires which had been practically extinguished broke out anew and are laying waste vast areas in an unprecedented degree in numerous sections of the Province, according to reports to the Department of Lands and Forests. To-day a special conference was called by Hon. Honore Mercier, Minister of Lands and Forests, to discuss with heads of the forestry branch the means of checking the devastation, and emergency instructions were given to all fire rangers.

Quebec, July 6.—Forest fires are reported to be raging in many sections of the province. News came late last night of fires at Atibiti, Beauce, St. Maurice River district, at Desquet, near Quebec, on the northern shore of Skeeter Bay, and Totumook. The most serious fire is said to be at Breakerville, about fifteen miles from Louis, two bridges having been burned.

Two Breakerville mines are idle owing to lack of water.

To Save Dams.
Three Rivers, Que., July 6.—Forest districts around St. Narcisse and Labee are ablaze. The dams are working furiously to-day to protect the dams in the St. Maurice that control the supply of water through the hydro-electric system and pulp mills on the river.

In Ontario.
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., July 6.—If we do not get rain soon we are going to have the entire country being scorched.

JAPANESE FOUGHT AGAINST KOREANS

Battle Took Place on Siberian Border

Seoul, Korea, July 5.—(Associated Press)—Reports have reached Japanese military headquarters here that a battle occurred on the Siberian border between Japanese and Koreans, in which 500 Koreans were killed or wounded.

Delay.
Tokio, July 5.—(Associated Press)—Announcement made to-day that a fresh division of the Japanese army will be sent to Vladivostok to relieve troops due to come home is followed by the expression of opinion on the part of leading newspapers here that Japan's evacuation movement will be delayed because of the unsettled Siberian situation.

The latest advice from Vladivostok declare that General Semenov, the Cossack anti-Bolshevik leader, is finding little support among the Cossacks and that the Cossack detachments are offering their services to the present Vladivostok Government.

F. A. ACLAND TO ATTEND LEAGUE LABOR MEETING

Ottawa, July 6.—(Canadian Press)—F. A. Acland, Deputy Minister of Labor, is on his way to Stockholm, Sweden, to attend a meeting of the International Labor Bureau of the League of Nations. The sessions will commence the latter part of this week.

Prior to returning to Canada Mr. Acland will visit the head offices of the International Labor Office at Geneva.

LEADING CITIZEN SUCCUMBED TO-DAY

J. J. Shallcross Had Rendered Great Public Service Was Twice President of Board of Trade

Municipal, commercial and artistic circles in Victoria suffered a distinct loss in the death this morning of John James Shallcross, a prominent and popular citizen of Oak Bay. Mr. Shallcross was taken ill about six weeks ago, but hopes were held out for his early recovery until a few days ago when his condition became rapidly worse. The end came peacefully at 10 o'clock this morning at his residence, 29 Foul Bay Road. Much sympathy will be felt for his widow.

John James Shallcross was born February 18, 1858 at Huyton, near Liverpool, England, and was educated at Reading, England.

Mr. Shallcross came to British Columbia in 1893, and for many years had been identified with the well-known mercantile business of Shallcross, Macaulay & Co., brokers and importers. Mr. Shallcross looking after the Victoria business, while his brother, Percy G. Shallcross, one of the best known Vancouver business men, has had charge of the Mainland interests, the firm also having agencies on the Pacific coast.

Early Public Work.
Mr. Shallcross's public work which later brought him so prominently before the citizens dates back to the active part he took in the inquiry held by the Royal Commission on Fire Insurance, which sat under R. S. Fenwick as chairman in 1911, and upon which the British Columbia Fire Insurance Act is modelled.

He had been, however, prior to that time actively engaged in the welfare of the Vancouver Island Development League and was the executive officer chosen to present the address from that League when Sir Wilfrid Laurier visited Victoria in 1910. For a number of years he continued his support of that organization until it was reorganized in 1914 under the name and articles of association.

In 1911 at the annual meeting of the Victoria Board of Trade, of which he had been an active member for some years, he was elected vice-president, and this brought him into office at a time when Victoria was at the peak of her last boom.

Board of Trade Presidency.
Mr. Shallcross succeeded H. Goulding Wilson in the presidency of the annual meeting of 1912, and during two years he held the chairmanship. Mr. Shallcross's expansion was a remarkable one. The Board took up strongly the question of agricultural development, and presented its views before the Royal Commission in January. He strongly supported the development of harbor and wharfage management into a national one, on the ground that the port had passed the stage of being left to private ownership, but while he lived to see the magnificent breakwater, docks completed, they still lack use by commercial shipping.

Re-elected in 1913 Mr. Shallcross was president in the same presidential year of the Board, whose members took an active part in pushing ocean dock, railway and similar development works in the city and district. In leaving office in April, 1914, Mr. Shallcross urged the all rail communication with the Mainland, as (Concluded on page 14.)

TROTSKY REPORTED HELD PRISONER

Lenine Said to Have Jailed Him

Paris, July 6.—Reports have reached here from quarters that demand notice to the effect that Leon Trotsky, Russian Soviet Minister of War and Marine, has been imprisoned by Nikolai Lenine, the Soviet Premier, following the Congress of the Third Internationale. No confirmation of these reports, however, is available.

The Third Internationale has sessions in Moscow about a week ago, and it was announced that more than 2,000 delegates from all over the world were present. Early in the session there were reports that Lenine and Trotsky had agreed to a compromise under which Trotsky would have a free hand in conducting the international's work.

Advices received from Moscow, however, have not indicated any serious break between the Bolshevik leaders which would explain the reported arrest of Trotsky.

GREEKS DENY THEY PLAN ATTACK ON SOVIET RUSSIA

Smyrna, July 6.—(Associated Press)—Greece has no warlike intentions toward Soviet Russia, despite statements to the contrary which have appeared in the European press. This statement has been sent to George Tchitcherine, Bolshevik Foreign Minister, who recently sent a telegram to Premier Gounaris asking him to define the attitude of his Government.

Newly Invented Gun Has Great Possibilities

New York, July 6.—Scientists and inventors to-day discussed the remarkable qualities of a new gun which Dr. Miller Reese Hutchinson, former chief engineer for Thomas A. Edison, claims may be developed to hurl a projectile of five tons from 200 to 300 miles.

Its velocity, he declared, ranges from one to five miles a second. The noise it made at a demonstration yesterday sounded much like the click of a cash register, though only a miniature weapon with an eight-inch barrel was used. Its projectile may be stopped in a sheet of steel with the precision of a trolley car.

The gun is the invention of John Temple, an Englishman, who developed the idea in this country. The demonstration, held in the presence of scientists and newspapermen, was in Dr. Hutchinson's office on the Fifty-First floor of the Woolworth Building. The testing ground consisted of a box of sand on the floor, over which was placed a sheet of steel three-quarters of an inch thick.

No Recoil.
Pointing the gun downward, Dr. Hutchinson discharged the weapon and the cash register click was heard. In the sheet of steel there was lodged a projectile three inches long and one-half inch in diameter. The end

CENSUS OFFICIALS PROSECUTE HERE

The first local police prosecution in connection with infringement against the Statistics Act has taken place, with Joseph Demal, 906 Cloverdale Avenue, Sanich, charged in the Sanich police court, at 2.30 this afternoon.

The charge against Demal reads that he "did, without lawful excuse, refuse to answer questions requisite for the obtaining of information, sought in respect of the objects of the Statistics Act, 1918, which were asked of him by Thomas G. Coventry, a person employed in the execution of his duty—contrary to the provision in this case made and provided."

The prosecution is the first in this district since the commencement of the operations of the census takers. The hearing is arousing much interest.

Premiers Postpone Discussion of Navy and Other Questions

Empire Leaders At Conference Hear Statement From British Chancellor of Exchequer on German Reparations Situation.

London, July 6.—(By Grafton O'Leary, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—With General Smuts back to-day from his mission to Dublin for Irish peace, the conference of Prime Ministers has decided to postpone discussion of important matters such as military and naval defence and the preparatory steps for a constitutional conference. To-day it is hearing a statement from Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the German reparations situation, and the balance of the week will be devoted to some of the numerous minor matters on the programme.

London, July 6.—The conference of Empire Prime Ministers has decided to postpone consideration of naval questions pending an exchange of views between Britain, the United States and Japan relative to a disarmament conference. It came known in semi-official circles here to-day.

The decision is regarded as significant, and is taken by some London papers to suggest that Britain may take the initiative in an effort to bring about a naval conference.

After Irish Visit Smuts Sees Mr. Lloyd George

London, July 6.—General Jan Christian Smuts, the South African Prime Minister, upon his return from Ireland this morning after his conferences with Eamon de Valera and other Irish "Republic" advocates in Dublin yesterday, conferred with Premier Lloyd George, Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, and Earl Middleton, the Southern Unionist leader, here this morning.

General Smuts reported the result of his talks with the Sinn Fein leaders on the Irish situation.

The conference was surrounded with the greatest secrecy, but it is understood in well-informed quarters that it primarily concerned itself with conditions for a possible suspension of hostilities in Ireland. Official circles express belief that a cessation of active operations is almost indispensable to progress in the peace deliberations.

Influence.
The feeling generally was that today's conference would have a marked influence on the conversations to be resumed in Dublin Friday between de Valera and representatives of Southern Irish Unionists.

Mr. Lloyd George presided at today's conference. Among the present were Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland; Lord Birkenhead, the Lord High Chancellor; Edward Shortt, the Secretary for Home Affairs, and A. J. Balfour, Lord President of the Council.

Sir Horace Plunkett later joined the conference. This gave rise to still further hopes of a favorable result from the conference in view of Sir Horace's position in Irish affairs.

PROHIBITION LAW HAS PREVENTED U. S. GAINING A CITIZEN

Bellingham, Wash., July 6.—August Carl Robeck, seventy-six years old, a subject of Great Britain, was refused American citizenship in court here yesterday when he indicated that he would have difficulty in accepting the eighteenth amendment to the constitution, the prohibition statute. Judge Neterot refused to grant citizenship to a man who would not accept the prohibition law.

U. S. PROHIBITION AFFECTS COMMERCE

New York, July 6.—Organizers of the Independence Day anti-prohibition parade on Fifth Avenue announced to-day that members would be furnished with names of commercial houses that they would be asked to deal with such houses. The organization intends going into politics also. It announces that it will support "wet" candidates for national, state and local offices.

LIQUOR IS NOT TO BE SHIPPED THROUGH U. S.

Washington, July 6.—Despite diplomatic protests, money-general Daugherty has upheld the ruling of his predecessor that alcoholic liquors can not be transported across the territory of the United States in transit from one foreign country to another. The opinion was sent to the customs division of the Treasury to-day and a conference of customs officials was held to determine methods of enforcing it.

Protests against this interpretation of the prohibition law were filed some months ago by the British Embassy in behalf of Canadian customs and by the Italian Embassy.

PUSSYFOOT AIDS MOVE TO MAKE DENMARK "DRY"

Copenhagen, July 6.—William (Pussyfoot) Johnson, the United States prohibition campaigner, arrived here to-day. Mr. Johnson has come to give assistance in the drive for national prohibition in Denmark.

—How Far Will the NEW LIGHT-SIX Go On a Gallon of Gasoline?

TO-DAY'S TEST Will Tell
—and the Answer Will Be Published in This Paper Thursday

A Studebaker LIGHT-SIX will give a public demonstration to-day of its mileage capacity on a single gallon of gasoline.

Instead of depending upon the regular gasoline tank for its supply of fuel, the car will be supplied from a gallon bottle of gasoline, set at the side of the windshield with the main gasoline line disconnected. The LIGHT-SIX will be driven until its one-gallon supply in the bottle is exhausted, thus furnishing an absolutely accurate tally of its mileage on one gallon of gasoline.

Each detail of this test will be carefully checked, the observers being Mr. W. A. Patterson, of The Times, and Mr. Alex. Stewart, of The Colonist.

We are confident in advance that the LIGHT-SIX in this test will uphold its record as a car of remarkable gasoline economy.

SUNDAY BATHING AT ONTARIO BEACHES

Toronto, July 6.—In response to a rumor that an effort would be made by the Lord's Day Alliance to stop Sunday bathing at the beaches, Mayor Church said: "The police will take no action, law or no law, in such weather. The people have a right to live and breathe without any permit from these people, and no interference with the city's bathing stations will be tolerated."

Hamilton, July 6.—The Lord's Day Alliance is planning to stop Sunday bathing in Hamilton, but is meeting with scant sympathy from members of the City Council. "Ridiculous," was the expression some of them used when they heard of the attempts of the Alliance.

JAPAN INCREASES ARMY PREPARATIONS

Manoeuvres This Year Great-est on Record

Tokyo, July 5.—The annual army manoeuvres this year will be more extensive than ever before. Eight divisions are expected to participate, as compared with the usual four divisions. The manoeuvres will take place in November in the district adjacent to the sacred Mount Fuji, and will last four days.

Tests will be made of all new weapons and armament, including those invented or improved after the Great War. The entire aviation corps will take part in aerial operations. As on previous occasions, foreign military attaches and officers will be invited. The military authorities have decided, says The Asahi, to fortify the southern entrance to the Inland Sea by constructing fortresses at Saganoseki and Satamisaki peninsula, confronting the Bungo channel, between Kikushi and Shikoku, in accordance with the policy of fortress readjustments.

An artillery regiment will be stationed at Saganoseki.

The district then will be one of the most important defensive positions of Japan.

RAILROAD MEN TO VOTE ON WAGES

Chicago, July 6.—General chairmen of the five leading railroad employees' associations have declined to shoulder the responsibility for accepting wage reductions which went into effect July 1. They stated that the entire matter should be referred to the membership through the various general committees not later than September 1.

The organizations represented were the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The general chairmen also authorized their chief executives to make arrangements, if possible, to meet a committee of railway executives to consider, and if possible adjust, all matters in controversy.

The chief executives and committees that are handling these matters for the five organizations were directed in a resolution to place the representatives of the railroad corporations clearly on record as to whether or not they will request further decreases in rates of compensation, the abolition of schedule rules or regulations, or the elimination of time and one-half overtime.

Announcement was made that the resolution will be immediately considered by the other recognized railroad labor organizations.

FALSE SYMPATHY IS DENOUNCED

Montreal, July 6.—The sympathetic attitude of the public, especially among the more responsible classes, including clergymen and members of Parliament, toward convicted criminals was denounced at yesterday's session of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada by Inspector McKinney, of Toronto, who moved a resolution urging the Federal Government to make it compulsory for every condemned murderer to be removed to the penitentiary in his province immediately upon conviction and to be kept there until the time of his execution.

The resolution, which was seconded by Superintendent Crow of Toronto, was unanimously carried.

"We are becoming a nation of sympathetic whiners, sending flowers to condemned murderers," declared Inspector McKinney amid applause. "What we need is a saner attitude toward the criminal class, and the sooner people cease getting up petitions for the commutation of sentences the better."

CANADIAN BUTTER USED IN BRITAIN

Ottawa, July 6.—The first shipment of butter this season to Liverpool by the steamship Melita has been much appreciated according to the weekly bulletin of the Trade and Commerce Department. One firm remarked that while there was some variation in the quality, the best was as good as any on the market, and that if such quality could be maintained, no long time would elapse before Canadian butter would secure a high reputation.

The percentage of salt, says J. P. Smith, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Liverpool, was far too high, being from 3 to 4 per cent, where Danish butter contains less than one per cent, and never more than 2 per cent of salt. In the present shipment the milder butter probably will sell at four shillings per hundred-weight premium over that containing more salt.

BUST OF STEAD IN NEW YORK

New York, July 6.—A bust of the late William T. Stead, who lost his life on the Titanic, was unveiled at Twenty-First Street and Fifth Avenue yesterday. It is a replica of one erected on the Thames Embankment in London by English and American newspapermen in honor of the distinguished journalist.

Melville E. Stone, counsellor of the Associated Press, delivered an address in which he praised Stead's work for international peace and described his achievements as a journalist.

DROUGHT DAMAGES CROPS IN FRANCE

Falling Off Shown by Government Report

Paris, July 6.—A Government crop report, under date of June 1, covering about 37,000,000 acres of farmland and pasture, shows the average condition is about 11 per cent poorer than that of 1920, but that there is a six per cent increase in acreage on twelve items, including potatoes, corn, sugar and fodder beets.

This unsatisfactory showing after the early optimism is attributed to the prolonged drought, the damage from which an immediate rain would only remedy slightly.

G.W.V.A. LEADERS DEBATED PROBLEMS

Executive Met in Port Arthur Yesterday

Port Arthur, Ont., July 6.—The Dominion executive of the Great War Veterans' Association is in session here again to-day.

The executive met in a session devoted to the question of unemployment measures necessary. Dominion officers refused to make public a resolution passed, but said the executive had reached the conclusion that the unemployment situation was a serious matter and the outlook for next winter very grave. There were no existing provisions made to cope with the situation, it was said, and a national effort was necessary.

The executive Secretary, Macneil, said, was anxious that Canada should escape unemployment relief. What was wanted was work.

A proposed organization, national in scope, composed of Federal, provincial and municipal authorities should, the executive felt, co-operate with the Employment Service of Canada in order that such service might be more general and thorough.

Immigration.

Immigration also was discussed and it was proposed it be so regulated as to not aggravate the unemployment situation.

Regulation of expenditures on public works and supplies purchased was also recommended.

A re-establishment resolution expressed in general terms legislation demands for the veterans' organization, not made public but will be considered at the next Dominion convention.

It was thought that the effort of that part of the nation should be exerted to restore the veteran to the status he would have gained but for war service.

In Ontario.

Toronto, July 6.—The movement for the uniting of all veterans in one Dominion-wide organization to be known as the Veterans' Legion of Canada was carried a step further at a meeting of the provincial command last night when it was decided to call a meeting of the veterans for July 23 to consider the matter.

SIX MURDERS IN IRELAND REPORTED

Five Men and a Woman Were Killed

Belfast, July 6.—Five men were taken from their homes in the district of Newry, forty-four miles south of this city, this morning and shot. Their bodies were left in a heap by the roadside by the men who had put them to death.

A school teacher, Miss McNuff, was shot and killed yesterday at Newry while attempting to shield her brother from an attack.

Two of the men murdered this morning were brothers and were sons of former Sergeant of Police Kelly.

This was the most serious incident in the Newry district since the disorders began in Ireland.

Two men snatched revolvers from the pockets of two constables on a street here this morning and shot the officers, seriously wounding them. The men who made the attack escaped.

A train on the way from Belfast to Londonderry was wrecked near Pomeroy, County Tyrone, last night, rails having been removed from the track. There were no casualties but cars carrying Belfast goods were burned.

BRITISH NOTE ON OIL PRODUCTION

London, July 6.—A white paper on the oil situation given out here is in the form of a note which Lord Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, sent to Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, under date of April 1, which enclosed for the Ambassador's information, in reply to his inquiries, a memorandum compiled by the British petroleum department, giving statistics on the oil resources of every part of the British Empire and showing an extremely small oil production and the absence of any general policy for the exclusion of foreigners from the oil-producing areas.

The memorandum says that in vast areas where there are no restrictions on foreign country trade, companies explore for oil except in British North Borneo, while in Canada and Trinidad, where restrictions are enforced, foreign capital has been working for many years.

"It can, therefore, hardly be contended that the restrictions imposed any serious disability on foreign enterprise," the memo argues as regards the closed door policy. "No real parallel can fairly be drawn between the British Empire, with its small and scattered production, and a country like the United States, producing two-thirds of the world's output within her home territory."

BOLSHEVIKI DENY THEY PLOTTED AT CONSTANTINOPLE

Stockholm, July 6.—The Rosta Agency, official news agency of the Russian Bolshevik Government, has issued an emphatic denial of reports that Soviet agents are involved in a plot against the Entente at Constantinople. It says no Soviet agents are in Constantinople and denies that Soviet troops are supporting or will support the followers of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader.

The discovery by the Allied authorities at Constantinople of a Turco-Bolshevik plot of vast proportions was reported in recent Constantinople dispatches.

SASKATCHEWAN PREMIER IN TORONTO

Mr. Martin Speaks of Bond Situation

Toronto, July 6.—Premier Martin of Saskatchewan, who is taking a holiday in Eastern Canada after the hard work in the campaign which resulted in giving him a second term of office, is a visitor here.

Referring to the controversy between a member of his Government and Eastern bond dealers arising out of the financial conditions of some of the Saskatchewan municipalities, the Premier said that only a few places in Saskatchewan were in difficulty.

"Their troubles originated in over-spending during the boom days," he stated. "It was not until 1913 or 1915 that we created a Local Government Board to control municipal expenditures. No municipal expenditure involving an addition to debt can now be incurred unless approved by the Board."

Discretion.

"Generally speaking, there is no reason why anybody should hesitate to invest in Saskatchewan municipal securities if ordinary discretion is used," he said. "Municipal bonds and debentures do not as a rule carry a provincial guarantee in any Province."

"I have always taken the position that the Province should not be called upon to pay the debts of defaulting municipalities, but we should be prepared in an administrative way to check municipal expenditures from time to time, and take steps necessary to help any overburdened community to get on its feet again. I do not think it just that we should take the money of communities that have managed their affairs prudently to cancel the debts of those which have been reckless."

EARNINGS OF C. N. R.

Toronto, July 6.—The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ended June 30 were $2,446,682, a decrease of $24,735 from the corresponding week last year. The gross earnings from January 1 to June 30 this year were $50,284,390, an increase of $4,719,566 over the corresponding period in 1920.

EFFORT TO SETTLE WINNIPEG STRIKE

Winnipeg, July 6.—The Winnipeg Typothetae, an organization of employing job printers, was disbanded, according to a statement made by the Trades and Labor Council last night. This step, officials of the local typographical union declared, explained the cause of representatives of the employers not appearing at the recent meeting called by C. W. Gordon, of the Joint Council, of industry, which was to hear representatives of both sides in an endeavor to effect a settlement of the strike of job printers now in progress over the forty-four-hour week. A new organization known as the Employing Printers' Association of Winnipeg had been formed, they said.

It is understood that representatives of the new body will be appointing a committee, which will be struck to confer with members of the Joint Council and that a negoti-

J. J. SHALLCROSS.

An outstanding citizen, always ready to devote, in the most generous measure, his time, energy and exceptional ability to any enterprise which, in his opinion, was calculated to advance the best interest of the city, has been lost to Victoria through the death of Mr. J. J. Shallcross, which occurred this morning. His manifold activities, the infectious enthusiasm with which he entered into the spirit of every undertaking with which he became associated, the pleasure he felt in doing things well, made him an indispensable factor in the life of the community from the early days of his residence here—twenty-eight years ago. He built up a successful business with wide connections, but this was but one phase of his activities, important though it was. He was identified with the Board of Trade, now the Chamber of Commerce, for many years; was an indefatigable member of its useful committees and eventually became its President. A keen student of municipal affairs and exceedingly well informed on municipal finance, his advice and assistance were enlisted on many occasions in the solution of difficult problems, while he found time to render valuable service to Oak Bay Municipality as a Councillor since 1918. His admirable work on the Local Improvement Commission without remuneration was a typical expression of his public spirit. Exceedingly well-informed, possessed of an unusually incisive mind and the capacity for instantly reaching the heart of a problem, he was a particularly convincing controversialist, especially on matters pertaining to trade, commerce and industry. The Times deeply regrets the termination of his useful career and expresses its sympathy with his widow and family in their bereavement.

THE BRITISH HOPE.

Although the South African Prime Minister has returned to London from his mission to Dublin the general public has not been informed upon the details of his report to Mr. Lloyd George. Nor is it likely that the British Government will make an announcement of a premature nature or provide any further opportunity for either religious or political prejudice to run riot at such a critical moment in what can be termed negotiations for a settlement of a century-old problem.

The importance of the visit of General Smuts to Dublin, his conference with Mr. de Valera and other prominent Sinn Féin leaders and representatives of the Unionist section of the Southern counties, lies in his own impartial personality and the position which he holds in the councils of the British Empire. Not even the most ardent "republican" in Ireland may accuse the South African Premier of any desire save that of a complete reconciliation between the Irish people and the people of the Empire as a whole. His association with this part of Great Britain's domestic policy is an exceedingly short one. On that account he is particularly well equipped to assume the role of mediator and the nature of his reception by the "republican" leaders and the Unionists of the South may be taken as an indication of their opinion of his choice as an official envoy of the British Government.

His welcome is all the more noteworthy in view of his own established views on the subject of the British connection. As a leader of a great self-governing Dominion who has fought against and for the British Empire he was prepared to stake his political status and personal aspiration upon the result of an appeal to the South African peoples to give him a mandate against the recalcitrants of his own country. How he succeeded at the polls is now a matter of history; but that verdict in favor of a statesman who comes of none of the races which compose the British elements of the United Kingdom is a tribute to his own understanding and appreciation of British institutions in contrast with the aims of those who persist in a spurious interpretation of the principle of self-determination. Even without these special considerations and the influence upon the outcome which they very naturally imply General Smuts belongs to the new school of statesmen, which bases its dealings upon the spirit of toleration and expects a recognition of just principles in return.

In that frame of mind and without anything approaching ambiguity he went to Dublin. If he was received in an atmosphere which differed from that the fault lies neither with him nor the authorities from whom he accepted his delicate mission. But until the result of the Dublin conversations is made public it will not be possible to form any sort of opinion upon the strength of the desire of the republican element to forego its fundamental demand in lieu of some system by which the South as well as the North may enjoy the advantages offered by the Home Rule Act and such other concessions as may be designed in the interests of permanent peace. If it shall develop that the visit of General Smuts has succeeded in convincing de Valera and his supporters that there is much to be gained by attending a conference in London it will have accomplished more than may appear on the surface at the moment. He has, as the head of one of the British self-governing Dominions—once the leader of an army which fought against the very Empire in whose councils he has risen to such eminence—shall have weaned the separatists from their extreme demand and unmountable difficulties will have disappeared.

If these things shall have been accomplished the Ulster Parliament should be found ready to extend such co-operation as a suitable guarantee from the South would demand. But if General Smuts shall have failed it is difficult to imagine what other course may be followed with anything like a promise of success.

OUR ASSESSMENT.

Unquestionably a just basis of property valuation for municipal assessment purposes is greatly to be desired, but we doubt if the proposal that an "independent body of assessors from the outside" be called in, made by Ald. Todd, would bring this about any more effectively than the municipal assessor can do it, if he is given the fullest opportunity.

The difficulty of determining what a just basis of valuation should be is apparent to most people. It has been engaging the study of experts all over the world for a long time without resulting in a formula satisfactory to the people assessed. In 1910-12 the only basis acceptable to the public was the utmost limit the real estate market would bear, and public pressure sent the assessment of this city up to a ridiculous height for the purpose of promoting speculation. If anybody at the City Hall then had demanded that a standard based upon the annual revenue capacity of property be adopted, he would have been branded as an enemy of the community and ostracized from polite society. But it ought to be apparent that property valuation for taxing purposes cannot keep pace with the fluctuations of the economic barometer. It cannot be super-normal in one year and sub-normal the next, for the obvious reason that in the period of inflation a community assumes heavy financial obligations which have to be paid for, and property assessment must be determined more by that fact than by the nature of the reaction from the boom, if bankruptcy is to be averted. We probably will see a buoyant economic condition after the present period of deflation, and unless human nature has altered very radically in the last few years the same kind of pressure at the City Hall for an abnormally high assessment in order to boost property values may be expected from the public. But in such times it is always well to remember that this is one rule that cannot be relied upon to work two ways; that while it is easy to force taxation up, it is mighty hard to bring it down, not on account of the arrogance or tyranny of our governments, but because we cannot set aside a hard-boiled economic law.

THE JUBILEE HOSPITAL.

Those Victorians who exhibit more than a superficial interest in the welfare of the Jubilee Hospital will have gathered from the report submitted by the Board of Directors at the annual meeting last week that the institution can neither hope nor expect to minister to the community in as efficient a manner as could be desired unless it is provided with the wherewithal to relieve its financial burdens and enlarge its scope and accommodation generally. Both the hospital and the administrative body have accomplished a great deal under difficult and exacting circumstances; but an institution of this kind cannot thrive or even accept its full responsibility as long as it shall be compelled to curtail its legitimate operation through lack of funds. The fact that hospital financing and hospital problems are common to this and other countries will afford the local institution small consolation. Its own difficulties are more peculiar to British Columbia than they are similar to those existing in other parts of the Dominion or even on the Mainland for this Province. People who have come to Vancouver Island from remote points to the East in search of climatic aid in their recovery from poor health have not taken special account of the cost that institutional treatment might involve in the event of it becoming necessary for them to take advantage of it. There is no particular reason why they should. And Victoria never would be guilty of erecting an invisible "no admittance" sign to apply to those who are compelled to battle for their existence. At the same time hospital finance and the yearly influx—small that the poor in health section may be—may not be divorced in their application to and influence upon the task of maintaining an institution such as that in question. In the meantime it is satisfactory to know that the re-elected Board will be able to guarantee a continuity of effort through the immediate troublesome period ahead. Its own record and a well understood need should be able to loosen the strings of the Provincial purse at the proper time.

NOTE AND COMMENT

If a few more invitations to a disarmament conference are issued through the press one of the great nations will be accepting them and the desire of the whole world will be well on the way to accomplishment.

THE STARS INCLINE, BUT DO NOT COMPEL.

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1921.

(Copyright, 1921, by The Mace's Newspaper Syndicate.)

This should be an unusually fortunate day. Venus is in a most powerful position for good, while Saturn is friendly early in the morning. Uranus and Jupiter are faintly adverse.

It is especially a time of benefit to women and bodies much success to those who engage in real estate or agriculture, both of which will attract many in the coming years.

Love affairs should flourish under the kindly sway of Venus, but while courtship will be encouraged by the stars, this may be partly due to the influence of Uranus in evil role that makes deception easy.

While this configuration prevails, women who are material in their ambitions will succeed much better than those who have the spiritual or idealistic aspirations.

U. S. SECRETARIES
TO VISIT TORONTO
In Connection With St. Lawrence Waterway Scheme

Toronto, July 6.—Major Alexander Lewis was here yesterday making arrangements for the reception for the coming visit of members of the American Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Tidewater Association who are to inspect various works around the lake of both sides of the border. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, and Secretary of Navy Denby, of the United States Government, will be with the party.

Major Lewis claims that $7,000,000 could have been saved in handling Canada's wheat crop with the St. Lawrence deepened, and that handling costs would be reduced from 16 cents to 7 cents a bushel.

JAM OUTPUT AT GANGES HARBOR

Factory Successful in Placing Year's Output

Ganges Harbor—The Gulf Islands Jam Factory Association has been fortunate in selling its year's output. Rithet Consolidated and A. P. Slade have agreed to buy the entire production, and as the association has a daily average of one and a half tons, this will mean much to the future success of the company. Efforts have been made for over a year to get this business established, but it was only last February when a meeting at Ganges was held for the purpose of organization and a provisional board of directors was nominated to get the affair going. Later, however, a permanent executive board of directors were elected and consisted of: President, Capt. Richmond; secretary-treasurer, A. Butterfield; Messrs. W. E. Scott, J. S. Lang, W. H. Seymour of Salt Spring Island; Dick Hall of Mayne, and another gentleman from Galiano as directors. Mr. W. H. Seymour, who has been studying the jamming business from Mr. Solly of the Victoria Preserving Company, was made managing director.

The board is pleasantly surprised at the ease in which the stock in the concern has been sold, the amount exceeding their highest expectations. The company are at present concentrating themselves to strawberries, raspberries, loganberries and blackberries, but expect in not very distant future to develop a canning business in which prunes, pears and apples will be canned. It is the hope of the directors to build a pickling plant to be operated by the same officials.

Sidney—Sidney lost one of her well known old-timers in the passing of Mr. Manuel Segalabra, who passed away at his late residence, 313 Third Street, Sidney, Monday evening at 6 o'clock. He had been in failing health for the past six months, gradually getting weaker until his power of resistance was completely exhausted. He had been in failing health for the past six months, gradually getting weaker until his power of resistance was completely exhausted.

Sidney—Though the cadets have departed, the khaki uniform is still a conspicuous sight around Sidney, as some of the fatigues party are still here pulling down tents, packing up kit bags and blankets and carting camp equipment to the wharf where they are being put into a scow for transfer back to headquarters at Work Point Barracks. Some members of the party are also here together with a quota of machine gun men from Hea's Camp, where the musketry instruction is taking place.

POLICE PENSION SYSTEMS URGED

Montreal, July 6.—A large proportion of the Canadian municipalities have no pension system for policemen. This was brought out at the convention of the Association of Chief Constables of Canada at last night's session by Chief Baker of Outremont. He asked the police chiefs of those municipalities where there was no pension system to stand up, and the tend their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Torrance.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE

SERIES OF DANCES

Shawnigan Lake: A flannel dance held in the S. L. A. A. Hall, the first of a series, was a decided success. The Three K's Orchestra from Victoria provided the music. About forty couples attended and had a splendid time. It is the intention of the directors to run these dances through the holiday season, thus providing entertainment for the numerous visitors. The attendance at the first one was satisfactory. Supper was served and everything done to provide a pleasant evening's entertainment.

The School Trustees are making arrangements for taking a census of the children of school age around the lake. A second teacher is the object to be attained and the co-operation of the residents is sought in this matter. The old schoolhouse could easily be put in shape to take care of the junior classes.

Judge Lampman has taken up his residence for the Summer in his recently-acquired home, which is beautifully situated looking straight down the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Coulterman and family have taken the Millard cottage for a lengthy period.

Wm. Allan, shipping agent for Rithet & Co., has taken T. Fox's house for the Summer and is enjoying a brief spell at the lake.

Transfer of Bonds.
Nanaimo—At Monday night's meeting of the City Council, Mayor Bushy and the City Treasurer were authorized to arrange for the transfer of $16,400 Victory Bonds held by the city for $50,000 Provincial Government Bonds, bearing interest at 6 per cent. and due in 1941, a transaction which will net the city some $9,000.

Dominion Day Picnic.
Courtenay—A Dominion Day picnic under the auspices of the G. W. V. A. was held at Kye Bay and there was a good turnout in spite of the unsettled weather. There was a good programme of sports and races of all kinds, for old veterans, young veterans, women and children, and all were well pleased with their prizes. Capt. Bates and Richardson were in charge of the sports committee. The ladies took well-filled baskets, and ice cream was served from all sources, which pleased not only the children.

Breaking Camp.
Sidney—Though the cadets have departed, the khaki uniform is still a conspicuous sight around Sidney, as some of the fatigues party are still here pulling down tents, packing up kit bags and blankets and carting camp equipment to the wharf where they are being put into a scow for transfer back to headquarters at Work Point Barracks. Some members of the party are also here together with a quota of machine gun men from Hea's Camp, where the musketry instruction is taking place.

Majority of those present rose. There was about 100 present.

"Work for a police pension, every one of you," urged Chief Baker.

MUST ENTER BABIES BY TO-MORROW

For Baby Show and Clinic Under Auspices Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E.

Proud mothers of Victoria's lovely babies, of whom there are legion in the city, are reminded that the long-anticipated baby show under the auspices of the Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E., is to take place on Wednesday, July 13, and entries for the various classes and prizes must be in the hands of the committee not later than to-morrow, Thursday, July 7, by telephoning Mrs. Marshall, 5458 L.E.

The babies will be judged from the standpoint of physical fitness alone and the following doctors have generously undertaken to attend to this: Dr. Baillie, Bryant, Holden, Fowler, Kenning, Keys, Price, Stanley, Thomas, Wasson. The judging will take place on Saturday, July 9, Monday, July 11, and Tuesday, July 12, at 4 o'clock, at the Victorian Order of Nurses' Institute, Rockland Avenue, and the result announced at the help at "Gonzales" on Wednesday.

The baby show has been undertaken solely in the interests of baby welfare. There is no entrance fee for competing babies, and therefore it is hoped that all who can, will support it by patronizing the children's fare and bring all their little ones to enjoy the fun. Handsome prizes will be awarded. Silver cups have been kindly offered for the winning babies in the different classes by the following: The Times, The Colonist, the Metropolitan Insurance Company, Mrs. Marshall (2), Mrs. Goulding Wilson.

Entries for the best decorated perambulator or buggy should be sent to Mrs. Curtis Sampson, telephone 2156, or to Mrs. J. E. Umbach, telephone No. 1295R.

In order to avoid the unnecessary expense of sending receipts to those who omitted to pay their dues during campaign week for the Women's Auxiliary of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, the committee is adopting this method of publishing a list of those who have responded to the notice.

Would those who have not sent in their dues do so as promptly as possible, as there is still about two hundred and fifty dollars owing. The collection committee is anxious to get this all in as early as possible.

Appended are the names: Mrs. O. H. Aylard $2, Mrs. H. W. Robertson $2, Mrs. Emily Church $2, Miss Dawson $5, Mrs. R. S. Day $2, Mrs. E. C. Hayward $2, Mrs. L. A. Heisterman $2, Mrs. J. D. FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

THE SINGING WITCH Part I

Alda's father and mother were dead, but before her father died he married a woman with one daughter named Bebe, and after her father's death she may be sure poor Alda had a hard time. Her stepmother and sister made her do all the work in the house and in the field, so that all the happiness Alda found in life was listening to the birds singing in the Summer when she was at work.

One day when she was working in the field an old woman came along and asked for a cup of water from the well. Alda left her work and drew the water, and while she was drinking it a bird perched on the fence nearby and began to sing.

"If you could sing like that, my pretty maid," said the old woman, "you would not need to work in the fields for the King has offered gold for the sweetest singer in the land to come to court and sing in the royal palace."

"I could only sing half as sweetly as that little bird I should be very happy," replied Alda.

"Come through the forest in the moonlight to-night," whispered the old woman, "and I may be able to help you get your wish."

Before Alda could reply the old woman had disappeared, but she reappeared soon after at the door of the stepmother and knocked. Bebe opened the door, and when she saw her she called out, "We have nothing for the witch, and I may be able to help you get your wish."

That night Alda crept out of the house and went to the forest. She saw the old woman sitting in the opening of a cave.

"Ah, my pretty maiden, you are not afraid to visit an old woman at midnight I see," said the old woman, and she listened.

Alda sat down beside her, and the witch began to sing. Alda looked around her, for she thought it must be the voice of a bird, and not that of the old and wrinkled witch that she heard.

"No, my child, it is not a bird," said the old witch. "I know what you are thinking, for it was once said I sang like those little creatures. It is my voice you have heard. It is all that is left of a beautiful woman as well as a sweet singer. Once I was beautiful and rich, and when I had a hard heart, and when I might have chosen to become a good woman I asked only that my voice should always be beautiful. The fairy that granted my wish warned me that some day I should be sorry, and told me to wish for goodness of heart. But I only laughed and said my beautiful voice was all that I needed to be happy."

"One day I began to fade. My cruel heart began to show in my face, and so I was scorned by those who had once admired and flattered me, but because you were kind to-day I shall bestow upon you my voice."

Then the old witch brought from the cave a big bottle and two cups, which she filled with clear, white liquid.

"Drink," she said, "and remember that beauty of heart is more to be desired than beauty of face or voice."

Alda drank from the cup the witch had given her, but when she had done so she found herself alone in the forest. The cave and the witch were nowhere to be seen. Daylight was creeping through the trees. But she had no time to linger for the work was to be done at home, and so she ran back, thinking about the strange night she had passed.

V.O.N. PLANS FOR THREE-DAY BABY CLINIC TO PRECEDE BABY SHOW

Final arrangements for the baby clinic to be held on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday next in preparation for the baby show to be held at "Gonzales" on July 13 under the auspices of Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E., were made at the monthly meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses yesterday afternoon. The meeting was held at the headquarters with the president, Mrs. Goulding Wilson, in the chair. Miss McNair's report showed a total of 27 cases attended, with 122 visits in Welsh genealogies, where it is spelled Llew.

The first Llew was the King of the Orkneys, who married King Arthur's daughter, the Victoria City Dairymaid. From this name was formed the masculine Llewellyn of romance. Another Llewellyn came over to Ireland with Richard Strongbow.

History does not record when and where the feminine Llewella was formed. It seems merely to have sprung up in England when the need arose for a feminine counterpart to the popular Llewellyn, who rapidly became Lionel Wales, who is considered rather quaint and old-fashioned nowadays, but it is still in common use.

The ruby is Llewella's talismanic stone. It will keep her strong and healthy and bring her material wealth. Friday is her lucky day and 6 her lucky number.

Medical Results.—The University of Toronto held their annual examination in music June 31 at Mrs. Bridges's studio, Vernon Apartments. Dr. Hewlett was the examiner. The following pupils of Mrs. Bridges have received their certificates from the University: Elementary Florence Hambley (honors), Adeline Crossley (honors), Phyllis Whiting, Pearl Beare, Vera Clanton and Lizzie Logan. Primary—Mrs. Elizabeth Alexander and Mrs. Helen Easter.

CHAPTER II.

The girl came to a standstill abruptly and faced about, drawing away just a hair's breadth from the detaining hand, and surveying her steadily, the boy's expression in her eyes changing to an amused calculation such as one would fancy a cowboy held up on his native plains by a stray lamb might have worn.

"What's the little old idea?" asked the girl coldly, her eyes narrowing as she studied the other girl in detail and attempted to classify her into the known and unknown quantities of her world. Her face was absolutely expressionless as far as any sign of interest or sympathy was concerned. It was like a house with the door still closed and a well-trained butler in attendance.

"I've got to get away from here at once before anybody sees me," whispered Betty excitedly, with a fearful glance behind her. "Do you want me to call a cab for you?" sneered the girl on the sidewalk, with an envious glance at the white satin slippers.

"Oh, no!" cried Betty, wringing her hands in desperation. "I want you to show me somehow to go out of sight, and if you will I'd like you to walk a block or so with me so I won't be so conspicuous! I'm so frightened I don't know which way to go."

"What do you want to go to all for?" asked the girl bluntly, with the look of an inquirer, and the intolerance of the young for its contemporary of another social class.

"Because I must!" said Betty with terror in her voice. "They're coming! Listen! Oh, help me quick! I can't wait to explain!"

Betty dashed out of the gate and would have started up the street but that a strong young arm came out like a flash and a firm young fist gripped her arm like a vise. The girl's head was caught in a snare of turning pet and excited voices, and her quick eyes pierced the darkness of the narrow court and measured the distance back.

"Here! You can't go toged out like that!" she ordered in quite a different tone. She flung off her own long coat and threw it around the shrinking little white figure, then knelt and deftly turned up the long satin draperies out of sight and fixed them firmly with a pin extracted from somewhere about her person. Quickly she stood up and pulled off her rubbers, her eye on the long dark passageway whence came now the decided sound of a forcibly opened door and footsteps.

"Put these on, quick!" she whispered, lifting first one slippered foot and then the other, and supporting the trembling Betty in her strong young arms, while she snatched on the rubbers.

Lastly, she jerked the rakish hat from her own head, crammed it down hard over the orange-wreathed brow and gave her strange protegee a hasty shove.

"Now beat it around that corner and wait till I come!" she whispered, and turning planted herself in an idle attitude just under the church window, craning her neck and apparently listening to the music. A second later an excited usher, preceded by the janitor, came clattering down the passageway.

his patent leather shoes to the white gardenia in his buttonhole, gave his features a cursory glance, and then shook her head.

"There might have been an old woman come out a while back. Dressed in black, was she? I wasn't paying much attention. I think she went down the avenue," she said, and stretched her neck again, standing on her tiptoes to view the wedding guests. Her interest suddenly became real, for she spied a young man standing in the church, in full view of the window, back against the wall with his arms folded, a fine handsome young man with pleasant eyes and a head like that of a young nobleman, and she wanted to make sure of his identity. He looked very much like the young lawyer whose office boy was her "gentleman friend." Just to make sure she gave a little spring from the sidewalk that brought her eyes almost on a level with the window and gave her a brief glimpse, enough to see his face quite clearly; then she turned with satisfaction to see that the janitor and the usher had gone back up the passageway, having slammed the gate shut.

Without more ado the girl wheeled and hurried down the street toward the corner where Betty crouched behind a tree trunk, watching fearfully for her coming.

"Aw! You don't need to be that scared!" said the girl, coming up. "They've gone back. I threw 'em off the scent. Come on! We'll go to my room and see what to do. Don't talk! Somebody might recognize your face. Here, we'll cut through this alley and get to the next block. It's further away and got so many folks passing."

Silently they hurried through the dark alley and down the next street. Betty holding her eyes almost close, that no gleam of her white satin might shine out and give away her secret, her heart beating like a trip hammer in her breast, her eyes filled with unshed tears, the last words of her stepmother ringing in her ears.

Was she making her father ashamed? Her dear dead father! Was she doing the wrong thing? So long that thought had held her! But she could not go back now. She had taken an irrevocable step.

Her guide turned another corner abruptly and led her up some stone steps to the door of a tall, dingy brick house, to which she applied a latchkey.

The air of the gloomy hall was not pleasant. The red wall-paper was soiled and torn, and weird shadows flickered from the small gas taper that blinked from the ceiling. There were suggestions of old dinners, stale fried potatoes and pork in all the corners, and one moving toward the stairs seemed to stir them up and set them going again like old memories.

The stairs were bare and worn by many feet, and not particularly clean. Betty paused in dismay, then hurried on after her hostess, who was mounting up, one, two, three flights, to a tiny hall bedroom at the back. A fleeting fear that perhaps the place was not respectable shot through her head, but her other troubles were so great that it found no lodgment. Panting and trembling she arrived at the top and stood looking about her in the dark, while the other girl found a match and lighted another wicked little flickering gas-burner.

Then her hostess drew her into the room and closed and locked the door. As a further precaution she climbed upon a chair and pushed the transom shut. "Now," she said, with a sigh of evident relief, "we're safe! No one can hear you here, and you can say what you please. But first we'll get this coat and hat off and see what's the damage."

As gently as if she were undressing a baby the girl removed the hat and coat from her guest, and shook out the wonderful shining folds of the lace and satin evidently thrilled her, the breath of the exotic blossoms was nectar as she drew it in. (To be continued.)

MR. DEANE LEAVES S. C. R. DEPARTMENT

Well Known Educationalist
Has Done Splendid Work

George H. Deane, Director of Administration in Vancouver for the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-education, has retired after an exceptionally capable administration of S. C. R. work over several years.

Major C. A. Bell, a disabled veteran, succeeds him. Mr. Bell came from Ottawa some months ago to Vancouver.

Before leaving Mr. and Mrs. Deane were presented with a handsome silver tea service.

The following statement was handed out by the Vancouver office dealing with the resignation:

"Mr. Deane was one of the early workers with the department. He came in at a time when men with organization ability and initiative were very necessary, and when qualified men who had been overseas were not available. He has worked most conscientiously and without sparing himself in the cause of the ex-soldier and the great bulk of the organization work of the department has been completed under his administration in British Columbia.

"The success of Mr. Deane's efforts is very evident from the fact that although not a returned soldier himself he has at all times received the support and co-operation of returned soldiers' organizations in this Province and has at no time been subjected to criticism from this source on account of lack of effort on their behalf.

"Organization work being virtually completed and the work having assumed a more or less permanent character, surrounding treatment and pensions, Mr. Deane has been anxious for some months to withdraw."

CIVIL COURT ACTION

Attempts Recovery of Gasoline Sloop Seabird

In a Supreme Court judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Gregory yesterday in the action of Kohse vs. Winterburne, the plaintiff was denied the main purpose of his action, which was one of replevin to recover a gasoline cruiser called the Seabird. He was allowed the right to remove his engine. The judgment does not deter the plaintiff from taking further action in this connection, it was stated. Frank Higgins, K. C., appeared for the plaintiff, and R. C. Lowe for defendant.

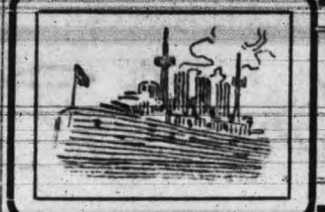

The story of the Seabird was one that went back to war days, when the boat was seized by the naval authorities at Union Bay and the owner interned at Vernon. Later the boat was released to a man named Schnarr, an American citizen, who claimed part interest. Subsequent to this the boat was beached in the Inner Harbor, and sold several times, apparently not always by the rightful owners. The plaintiff's action was to sue one of the purchasers for the recovery of the boat.

With a consignment of European liquors aboard for Victoria, the Holland-American freighter Emdijk may arrive in port to-morrow. At eight o'clock last night she was 120 miles south of North Head, it is announced by Findlay, Durham & Brodie, local agents for the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company. The cargo comprising 60 tons, is consigned to the Liquor Control Board.

The Dutch freighter is now due to leave San Francisco, where she touched on her way out from Europe. The Dutch boats of the Holland-American Line are being operated to the North Pacific coast in conjunction with the service of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company.

The Lockhartine was the first vessel of the "Royal Mail Line" originally scheduled to open the British company's service this year, but the new ship was delayed in completion.

To Take Passengers.

The first Royal Mail boat to come out will be the motorship Somersetshire. The Somersetshire is now on her voyage out from the United Kingdom, and is posted to sail from Vancouver on her return trip to Europe July 25. The motorship has accommodation for twelve passengers and bookings are now being made by the company's agents for passage from this coast.

CALIFORNIA PARTY
TO PAY VISIT HEREFifty Tourists From Los Angeles to Stop Off After Northern Tour

Fifty American tourists from Los Angeles will board the G. T. P. steamship Prince George at Seattle next Wednesday for a cruise to Northern British Columbia and Hyder, Alaska, according to C. E. Jenney, district passenger agent for the Canadian National Railways Vancouver, who is in the city to-day from the mainland. This party of fifty, Mr. Jenney says, will spend a week in Victoria upon its return from the North.

Tourist travel to the northern coasts of British Columbia by the G. T. P. steamers, Mr. Jenney says, continues to be brisk, large lists travelling both ways.

The S. S. Prince George, arriving here this morning from Prince Rupert, brought a full list of passengers for the Canadian Rover on the British Columbia-California service, has left Vancouver. On board was a large party from the prairies, a number of whom came on to Victoria for a short visit to the United States and made Morchouse, left at night for Seattle.

AUTO SPACE BOOKED
SEVEN DAYS AHEADNeed For Better Service From Mainland Is Felt

The need for better ferry service between Vancouver and Victoria is further emphasized by a complaint which J. G. Thomson, of the Victoria and Island Development Association received from a representative of the Southern California Automobile Association this morning. The gangways over the ferries, with the exception of the Chalmers, are not wide enough to permit the handling of some of the larger cars. The accommodation is also limited.

Many tourists visiting Canada with the intention of touring British Columbia must be forced to confine their visit to the mainland for both reasons. One auto tourist stated this morning that he had waited nearly a week to bring his car to the island, and auto space is now booked from the mainland until July 12.

ESPERANTIST CENTENARIAN

Rev. John Anderson Corstorphine, near Edinburgh, is the oldest Esperantist in the world. He was born on May 10, 1821, and is now a centenarian. After his education in Scotland and the University of Edinburgh he went to Calcutta as a missionary of the Church of Scotland. After ten years of successful labor in India he returned to Scotland and became a parish priest, first in Dalkeith and later in Culter. In 1881, in his seventieth year, he retired and withdrew from active work as a pastor. Nevertheless he occupied himself with modern studies, for, notwithstanding his many years, he retained a clear youthful mind. Among other things he learnt Esperanto and, although on account of his great age, he could not speak it, he was deeply interested in it.

On May 10, the hundredth anniversary of his birth, he was visited by Mr. J. N. Warden, president of the British Esperanto Association, and Rev. W. Ross, of the Scottish Esperanto Federation, who carried to him the hearty salutation of all Esperantists. He expressed the pleasure he had experienced in the study of Esperanto, and looking back over his hundred years of life, he could not refrain from thanking God for Esperanto, because it helped to renew his youth. He strongly believed in its usefulness to humanity, because it was fully capable of expressing every shadow of human thought. He listened with interest to the recent successes of Esperanto at the Chamber of Commerce in Paris and the Red Cross Congress. His message to all Esperantists was: "Do not weary of our enterprise; persist in making all through the world will be able to speak our true, living language, each to the other, face to face." Rev. J. Anderson hopes to read the book, "Vivo de Zamenhof," which they present to him as a birthday gift.—W. M. P.

[Translated by Mrs. Alice Weeks, of this city, from the June number of The British Esperantist, the official organ of the British Esperantist Association.]

OBSERVED TO LOAD
AT PORT ALBERNIC. G. M. M. Ship Will Carry Lumber to Canadian
Atlantic Coast

Over half a million feet of lumber will be loaded at Port Alberni by the C. G. M. M. steamship Canadian Observer for Eastern Canadian points. The Canadian Observer is the second deep-sea ship scheduled for Port Alberni this month, the United States Shipping Board steamship—Berberia—having been chartered to load on Barkley Sound for Antofagasta.

The Canadian Observer is commanded by Capt. A. O. Cooper, well known coasting and deep-sea master on the Pacific, who brought the vessel around from Halifax. Capt. Cooper, it will be recalled, was formerly with the R. C. Coast Steamship Service, and on two occasions took the steamship Princess Ena across the Pacific to Vladivostok. The Canadian Carrier was the first ship of the Canadian Government fleet to arrive on this coast in the coast-to-coast service via Panama. The steamship Canadian Farmer, which will be operated with the Canadian Rover on the British Columbia-California service, has left Tampico, Mexico, in ballast for this coast. She lost her sulphur charter owing to inability to get a discharge berth at Tampico. The Canadian Farmer is expected about August 4.

NEW WAR GAS KILLS
IN 30 SECONDSToxic Smoke Candle is Latest
Death Dealing Invention

Chester, Pa., June 6.—A new warfare gas, three drops of which will kill within thirty seconds the persons whose skin it touches, was described here by Capt. L. D. Hutson, U. S. A., speaking before students of the Pennsylvania Military College.

Capt. Hutson came here to perfect plans for a night gas attack, to be staged in connection with the college's centennial commencement exercises.

Describing the gas as the latest discovery of the chemist engaged in the research laboratories of the First Gas Regiment, Chemical Warfare Service, at Edgewood, Capt. Hutson said the United States had made tremendous progress in warfare gasses since the close of the world war.

"Imagine what will happen to a city," he said, "when air squadrons begin spraying with that terrible substance. In the next war machine guns and artillery will be out of date—the weapons will be gas and chemicals, and the humblest non-combatant will be exposed to attack. Entire populations will take the chance of never awakening when they go to bed at night. It will truly be a war of extermination."

"Another new invention is the toxic smoke candle, which, when burned, sets loose clouds of dust particles, temporarily incapacitating those that breathe the dust. The infantry will be equipped with these candles and they will be used in the advance to smother the personnel of machine gun nests, and the enemy huddled in trenches and dugouts."

$250,000 FOR $20

The inventor of the glass ball in the soda water bottle has offered $250,000 for years to sell his patent, and finally was forced to give it away for $20. The purchaser made $250,000 out of it. This extraordinary revelation was made recently by Mr. Godfrey Cheeseman, secretary of the National Union of Manufacturers, at the first meeting of the newly incorporated Institute of Patented Inventions in London. Mr. Cheeseman also told of another man—the inventor of the screw stopper—who received practically nothing for his invention, while the purchaser made a fortune. "Inventors are continually exploited," he said, "and rich men among them are extremely rare. An invaluable invention has been recently made for the telephone, but the inventor could not dispose of the patent in this country and it went to the United States."

The London Daily Mail reports the case of a girl who swallowed two hundred phonograph needles. Punch remarks that she may have done it for a wager and won one point.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Veterans of France—The semi-annual meeting of the Veterans of France will be held in the clubrooms to-morrow night at 8 o'clock, preceded by a meeting of the executive at 7.15. The half-yearly election of officers will take place and other matters of importance will be discussed.

A Marvellous Record—In his picturesque career as pugilist, miner, and many other occupations, Frank Slavina feels that he can in his family rival that of the census enumerator on Ardara Road, whose record was told in yesterday's Times. Mr. Slavina was born in New South Wales, and his wife in London. His son was born in London, and his daughters respectively in Belfast, Victoria, and in Whitehorse, Yukon. Mr. Slavina has lived in twenty-four sections of the British Empire, and under thirty-three flags, he says.

Thief Takes Watch—One of the coolest and most daring of daylight robberies was perpetrated yesterday on the person of A. Cameron, Douglas Hotel, who reported to the police today. Cameron was walking along Yates Street when a man brushed up against him, and stopping swiftly seized his watch from his vest pocket. The thief was spotted immediately, but ran and eluded the efforts of his victim, rounding a corner, disappearing from view. The robbery was committed in broad daylight with numerous pedestrians on the street.

Will Camp at Goldstream—At a meeting of the Fairfield Scout Parents' Association, held yesterday at the headquarters on Courtney Street, it was decided that the annual scout camp of the troop would be held at Goldstream. The camp is to be opened on July 30, with ten days for scouts and five days to follow for Cub Scouts. Mr. W. V. Raven, president, Mr. and Mrs. Bissell were appointed delegates to the District Association of Boy Scouts. A number of donations were acknowledged.

Boys Break Globes—Electric light cluster globes were broken on Douglas Street yesterday, near King's Road. Constable Allen reported that the work was probably that of boys who were seen to be vacating the neighborhood shortly afterwards. Boys are warned that the utmost stringency will attend their efforts if caught at this act. The damage to the city light globes in the course of a year runs into something like $1,000 and this is mainly the work of boys, who break the globes with sling shots and other contrivances for the mere fun of destructive damage.

Valuable Pearl Lost—Mrs. William Loutout reported to the police yesterday afternoon that a pearl valued at $3,000 had been dropped from a pearl necklace while at the Variety Theatre or between there and her residence at 1069 Beach Drive. A substantial reward is offered. The pearl that was lost is reported to be the size of a large pea, and is one of a string valued at $75,000. The pearls were each tied separately on the necklace, it was explained, so that when the chain broke only one fell off. As misfortune would have it, that pearl happened to be one of the finest specimens.

Injured in Accident—While attempting to avoid collision with another car, at the intersection of Yates and Wharf Street, at 5.30 yesterday evening, J. L. Dixon, St. James Hotel, and Alexander Ellis of the Panama Hotel, were thrown out of a runabout in which they were driving, sustaining painful injuries when the car overturned. The former sustained a dislocated shoulder, while the latter was severely bruised. The police ambulance responded to the summons, when the two men were taken to the Royal Jubilee Hospital and attended to by Dr. Walter Bapty.

To Entertain Boys' Brigade Band—The members of the Boys' Naval Brigade brass band will be the guests of the secretary of the Navy League, P. A. Rayner at Cordova Bay on Saturday afternoon. An excellent program has been prepared for their entertainment, including a baseball match between the band and the Cordova Bay boys' team, also a dinky race between the band and a picked team from the starboard and port watches of the brigade. The prize for this event has been generously donated by David Spencer. An excellent tea at 5.30 will be followed in the evening by a band concert on the beach.

Applying for Citizenship—Frank Hein, born in 1882 at the city of Herne, Bohum, Westphalia, Germany, and Mahran Yardumian, born in 1827 at Chnank, Armenia, made application for their Canadian papers before His Honor Judge Lampman in the County Court yesterday. Hein stated he was a logger from Clonose and had been in this country since 1908. Yardumian stated that he served with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces and had been in this country since 1911, with the exception of war service with the 143rd and 72nd Battalions. R. A. McIntyre and Fred G. Honey gave character evidence as to the good character of the applicant overseas. Both applications will be forwarded to the Minister of Justice for final consideration.

Magistrate Jay Indisposed—Owing to the illness of Magistrate Jay, this morning took a sudden turn and was unable to attend court. It is likely that W. W. Northcott, J.P., and Dr. Lewis Hall, J.P., will try the several cases in the Saanich court this afternoon. One case of theft, several under the motor regulations, and one of refusing information to a census enumerator are on the list for this afternoon's hearing.

Toilet Cases for Traveling

To those who undertake more or less extensive travel, the convenience of a leather case containing the needed toilet articles appeals with particular force. The narrow confines of a steamer stateroom or railway dressing room causes much inconvenience, whilst the handy, compact, toilet case renders service on account of small size. For motoring trips it is an ideal companion. We have an excellent variety of these cases.

DR. HERTZ PLEASED WITH VISIT TO CITY

Expects Successful Tour of Dominion; Leaves For Mainland

A lucid and graphic lecture on the "Bible as a Book," given by the Very Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Hertz, marked the closing of the visit of the Chief Rabbi of the United Jewish congregations to Victoria. Dr. Hertz and his party left on the midnight boat for Vancouver following the reception. The ballroom of the Empress Hotel was well filled with members of the Jewish congregation, and many of other faiths who had taken the advantage of hearing such a distinguished visitor. J. Rose, president, and Premier Oliver and Major R. J. Porter were among those present. Dr. Hertz gave a masterful discourse. He described the Bible country as a country in a graphic manner, the people of the Bible, the history and characteristic of the Jewish race, and concluded with a few forceful remarks on the Bible as the outstanding book.

Foundation of All Literature.
The Bible, he stated, is the foundation of all literature and languages. The oldest English literature, he remarked, dated back only 600 years, yet it was almost impossible to follow some of the earliest writings. How many, he asked, could read Chaucer without the aid of a dictionary? Old Hebrew writings of 1200 years ago, however, were still preserved, and were read without difficulty. There were no other writings where such a distinct abyss between right and wrong was defined as in the Hebrew literature. Of all the Hebrew writers there was no difference of opinion of the cardinal sin. All were agreed upon it as man's inhumanity to man. The Bible, he described as a book which created language so that it could be read. It was the Epic of the ages, and the Epic of Nations. Shakespeare as the most popular of poets, and Tolstoy as the most popular of authors had been widely translated, but not to stand comparison with the Bible which had been printed in 425 languages.

Thanks to Citizens.
In closing his remarks Dr. Hertz extended cordial thanks for the kindness he had received at the hands of the people of Victoria. He had received a splendid reception in South Africa, Australia and New Zealand, he stated, and judging by the kindness and hospitality he had been accorded in the key city of Canada, Victoria, he believed his time in Canada would be as pleasant and advantageous as it had been in other parts of the British Empire which he had visited.

Premier Oliver expressed good wishes to Dr. Hertz. The graphic description of the Bible, he said, has been a wonderful treat and a revelation to all present.

Speaking for the Victoria Ministerial Association, Rev. J. P. Habershon also extended greetings to Dr. Hertz.

ARMY AND NAVY
VETERANS FACE
SECOND CHARGE

Beer Selling Alleged in Second
Information

A second charge against the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, Victoria Branch, for alleged contravention of the provisions of the Government Liquor Act in respect to the sale of beer was laid this morning on information supplied by Detective Sergeant Ezra Carlow. The first information was laid after a visit of Chief Fry, now in the East, to the local clubrooms on June 28, and the case stands remanded. Sergeant Carlow obtained the second information on July 4, the charge not having yet appeared in court.

The second information, which follows the wording of the first reads: "not being a government vendor, did unlawfully sell liquid known or described as beer, contrary to the Government Liquor Act."

Both cases were to have been called in the police court this morning, but owing to a sudden indisposition of Magistrate Jay at his home this morning the court was not held. Major Rowlinson, President of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, H. Despard Twigg, who is acting for the defendants in these cases, were on hand, but the court was postponed until to-morrow at 10 o'clock. The prosecutions against the veterans' club is being watched with keen interest, and may grow through legal phases for considerable time, until it reaches the higher courts, it is stated. The Government Liquor Board has been careful to permit the prosecutions to be brought by the municipalities, without involving the Board, it is stated.

Bays Enter Crews In N.P.A.A.O. Events

Local Oarsmen Anxious to Make Clean Sweep of Annual Regatta Which Will Be Held Next Week At Vancouver; All Crews Are Strong and Powerful and Are Fast Rounding Into Form; Portland and Vancouver Strong.

Strong, powerful and well-balanced crews have been selected to represent the J. B. A. A. at the N. P. A. A. O. regatta which is to be held at Indian River, Vancouver, on Friday and Saturday of next week. The Bays will be represented in every event on the programme and will have as large an entry list as the Vancouver Rowing Club. The Portland oarsmen will have a larger representation than they had at Shawinigan Lake last year, so it is expected that the regatta will be one of the greatest in the history of the association.

For some time the Bays were in a quandary as to whether or not they should enter a senior crew. Some thought that the club should specialize in a junior four, which is victorious in the Friday race could pass into the senior event on Saturday. Sufficient material has been discovered by the club to warrant two first class crews and the senior boat will be one of the best that has carried the club colors. The junior boat if it succeeds in winning its event will row with the seniors as well.

Expect Stiff Competition.
The Bays realize that they will have a very stiff fight to retain the Grand Aggregate Cup which they won at the Shawinigan Lake regatta last summer. The Bays were placed in every race. They lost the classic which they had counted on winning so much. The senior fours were the object of the club, but the race was lost out in a spectacular finish with Portland. The Bays want the race this year and they have expended every effort to vanquish the sturdy Portland crew. The Bays easily out-rowed Vancouver last year and they expect much trouble from that quarter next week. Portland is the locals' bug-bear.

John Wickson will again stroke the senior four, but the remainder of the crew will be changed. Bill Day, who last year rowed No. 2, will be in No. 3 seat, while the husky Matt Scott will pull No. 2 and Bob Cummings will be bowman. Moses and Simpson were the other two members of last year's crew. As spares for this event the Bays will have Simpson and Aubrey Kent.

Kennedy Rowing Again.
Billie Kennedy, who has held the singles in the N. P. A. A. O. for a number of years, will again row in this event for the Bays. The only competitor Kennedy will have in this race will be Jack McDonald, but he may be pulled out of the event at the last minute. He is bowman of the Portland four and may not want to row two senior races in one afternoon.

In the senior doubles, which were won last year by Kent and Mitchell, the Bays will this time be represented by Billie Kennedy as stroke and Kent at bow. This pair is promised keen competition from both the Vancouver and Portland clubs.

The Bays must also defend the 140-pound honors, which they won handily at Shawinigan Lake. The crew will be stroked by A. D. MacLachlan, with Dad Hartley, No. 2, Jack Riddell, No. 3, and Bob Watson as bow man. The spares for this event are: G. W. Allan, G. Pauline, H. E. Raybourn and C. H. Pauline.

H. Watson will row for the Bays in the junior singles. He is looked upon as a coming sculler and his progress in the regatta will be watched with keen interest.

Kingsley Row.
George Kingsley, six-footer from the Shawinigan Lake Athletic Club, will also row for the Bays in the junior singles. George pulls a powerful oar and should give a good account of himself.

Two crews are available for the junior doubles. J. Riddell and R. Watson will form one and Matt Scott and R. Cummings are billed for the other. Both crews are well trained and will make the event well close and interesting.

The junior four will be stroked by Harry Johnson, who last year rowed such a heady race in the 140-pound event and won with lengths to spare and then pulled second to the big Vancouver crew in the junior event. Ernie George, the hockey star who has taken to rowing as a summer sport, will be in No. 3 seat with R. Crane at No. 2 and W. Duncan pulling the bow oar. R. Cummings and C. W. Pauline will be the spare men in this event.

The regatta is attracting much interest all over the coast and the crews are all reported to be in top form. Next year the regatta will be held at Portland and the following year it will be staged here. The Bays will not go to Shawinigan but will stage the affair at Brentwood.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TENNIS

Men's singles—Lewis won from Redman 6-3 and 6-2.

Men's doubles—Craig and Lewis won from Redman and Cox 6-3 and 6-2.

POSTAL CLERK WHO WON BRITISH AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

WILLIAM I. HUNTER

of Walmer, Kent, who won a wonderful victory over Allan J. Graham, of the Royal Liverpool, in the finals by 12 and 11 to play. Hunter is shown in the picture with British Amateur Golf Championship and some of his admirers. The new holder of the championship is 27, a sturdy, confident little player with the swing of the born golfer, a telegraphist and sorting clerk in Deal Post Office, and a son of the Deal professional, Harry Hunter. Hunter makes the golf championships the occasion of his annual holiday. Otherwise he never plays in big events. He was in the last eight ship, so with the limited opportunities that he has had in the open championship for himself in two years. He was born at Forest Row, in Sussex, about Mitchell's birthplace, but when he was a year old his parents removed to Deal, where he has learnt his golf.

Looking Over the Big Fight

Folks are just beginning to realize that the big heavyweight fight between Dempsey and Carpentier was not as one-sided as the first reports made it to be. Stories are coming over the wire from all sources which prove convincingly that the Frenchman made a glorious stand and in the second round might have stowed away the champion had he had another good punch in his hands.

Despite his defeat the Frenchman has emerged with honors. His sportsmanship in not offering an abili, when apparently had a good one, has made an impression with the people in the States, where they are accustomed to hear the vanquished emerge with, "Well, if it hadn't been for this or that I'd have got him."

A Popular Hero.
Carpentier, as the gentleman that he is, takes no credit from Dempsey and makes no fuss over the fact that he broke his right hand in the second round. He realized that the breaks are all part of the fight and right now if two matches were arranged one between Dempsey and Willard, and the other between Carpentier and Tom Gibbons, there is no doubt but that the latter bout would draw the biggest crowd. Carpentier is a hero in the States at the present time.

Here are some of the latest comments on the fight from the pen of many sporting writers:
Just One Blow Away.
Harry Newman, New York, July 6.—While Jack Dempsey has been receiving congratulations from all over the country we cannot help but think what a lucky guy he was after all. Great as Dempsey is, we are inclined to believe that if fate had not been kind to him in that second round of his fight with Georges Carpentier, the heavy weight championship would now be nestling firmly in the grasp of the French scrapper. Just one blow away from the title. That was the cruel trick fate played on the blonde contender.

If Georges Carpentier had had a companion shot to the one he blazed through Jack's jaw in that second round, we believe that the Frenchman would now be enjoying all that is Dempsey's. Georges had sent in all he had with that wallop but he had nothing left when the American champion went reeling. It happened that the Frenchman had nothing in reserve and left the Yankee practically in possession of the situation. The punch landed by the Frenchman shook Dempsey from his heels to his head. Of course, we do not believe that the wallop had the champion in a dangerous position, but we do believe that another blow like it, delivered to the same spot, would have upset Dempsey and perhaps robbed him of his title.

No one has as yet been able to topple Dempsey off his pins, but that punch of the Frenchman's Saturday surely made him rock. It was the most exciting period of the fight outside of the knockout. Those thousands were on their feet expecting to see the Frenchman unbalance another blow in the same direction. But the French champion did not have another left and gradually sank down to defeat under the bitting wallop of his antagonist. Just one more punch and Carpentier might have been the champion of the world to-day.

Jack Velock: The Dempsey-Carpentier bout was far from a flivver. It was a record-breaker financially, and

Caps Being Bolstered for Second Half Rush

Hansen Will Play Right Field Permanently and Quit Pitching; "Red" Hodges Signed to Play in Outfield; Ray Alexander, One of Last Year's Pitchers, Being Sought; One More Good Pitcher to Be Signed.

Arrangements are now being made to bolster up the Victoria ball team to make it a contender for the top berth of the Pacific International League during the second half of the season. This afternoon's game at the Stadium between the Capitals and Tigers inaugurated the second half of the schedule. The winners of this half will clash with the winners of the first half, Yakima, in a post-season to determine the championship of the league. If Yakima should win again the team with the second best average for the season will compete against the Crab-apples.

Manager Hansen has decided to give up pitching and will be a permanent fixture in right field. He will be a loss to the slab artists, but he is a good fielder and manager of the club at the same time. Another pitcher will be secured to bolster the staff.

Are After Alex.
Wires were sent out to get Ray Alexander, who last year pitched such effective ball for the Capitals at the end of the season. The wires failed to get hold of Alex, and other efforts are being made to get him. Alexander is a very reliable hurler and if his arm and head are in as good shape now as they were last year, he will make a welcome addition to the present flinging corps.

Other improvements are to be made to the team. The pitching staff is strengthened. "Red" Hodges, who has been playing centre field for Yakima, will appear in a uniform for the Capitals to-day. He is a good fielder and a good pitcher. Tealey Raymond had to cut down his string and decided to keep Valencia to play in centre field as well as to take his regular turn in the pitcher's box. It became necessary to cut adrift Hodges. "Red" is a fine lead-off man, a good hitter and has the best throwing arm in the league. He can handle the ball from deep centre to the grandstand. "Red" also is a good baserunner.

It is quite likely that either Shouts or Engle, maybe both, will be released by the local club.
Teams More Even.
The two teams in the league are being brought to more even terms as a result of the twelve-player limit. No squad will be able to carry more than four pitchers, and pinch-hitters will practically vanish as differences in the dropping of so many effective sluggers.

Four games will be played here this week by the Capitals and Victoria teams. To-morrow and Friday's games will be called at 6:30 o'clock, but Saturday's game will be staged at 2:30 o'clock. Next week the Caps perform in Vancouver and Friday return here to open a four-game series with Yakima on the following Wednesday.

Thursdays and Fridays are ladies' days.

AUSTRALIAN TENNIS PLAYERS MEET AGAIN

Vancouver, B. C., July 6.—In exhibition games here yesterday, the Australian Davis Cup series team played to a good crowd in midday form, suggesting that they were not quite recovered from the effects of confinement on shipboard and not accustomed to atmospheric and turf conditions in Vancouver.

C. V. Todd defeated Norman Peach, two sets out of three, and J. O. Anderson took two straight singles from J. B. Hawkes. In the doubles Todd and Hawkes defeated Anderson and Peach. The visitors were entertained to dinner by the Vancouver Tennis Club at Shaughnessy Heights.

The purse is given by the Western Racing Association, operating Devonshire Park. The international mile and a furlong, to be run July 20.

Turns Toast For Self Into One For Dempsey

New York, July 6.—Georges Carpentier and Desamps, his manager, were guests last night at a dinner given to visiting French and British sport writers by the Editor and Publisher. Tributes were paid to the sportsman-ship of the American press and public by Ben Jannison, of the London Daily Telegraph, speaking for the British writers, and Victor Sport, boxing critic of Echo de Paris.

Carpentier, responding to a toast in his honor, tendered one to Jack Dempsey, his conqueror.

Toast For Dempsey.
"For the past ten years it has been my ambition to box for the world's championship," he said, "but on Saturday I met the man whom I think I should have beaten."

BAYS AND WARDS ARE JUNIOR BALL WINNERS

It was a wild and woolly session of baseball last night at the Beacon Hill grounds, when the invincible Bays took the lion end of a 15-3 score against the Fairfields.

The work of Roskamp and Campbell on the mound for the Bays was splendid, while their team-mates sailed into the offerings of Moffat and Belford at frequent intervals.

The Fairfields were in the lead 2-0 in the third, but the Bays took all the hope out of the Fairfields by mauling everything the Fairfields slabs delivered from then on.

The Bays' fielding was practically airtight and the work of Copas at short in picking up some wicked "hops" was very good. The Fairfields committed eight errors which were largely the cause of their downfall.

The score—R. H. E.
Bays—15—13—3
Fairfields—3—8—8

Batteries—Roskamp and Campbell; Moffat and Belford.

Although the Centrals collected a total of thirteen hits against the Wards the breaks were still against them and they had to admit defeat. The Centrals led by a score of 13 to 12 in their half of the ninth, but a Ward rally accounted for two runs.

Lorenz pitched good ball for the Centrals but although he only allowed nine hits and struck out ten men he showed an affection for the groove.

Bentley, the Wards right fielder, was the star of the game, handling four hard flies in sensational style.

The score—R. H. E.
Centrals—12—13—1
Wards—14—9—2

Batteries—Lorenz and Price; McNaughton and Thacker.

FOOTBALL PLAYER GIVEN FIVE YEARS

Vancouver, July 6.—At a meeting of the B. C. F. A. held last night, player McDowell, of Wallace, was suspended for five years for assaulting Referee Baron during the progress of the Wallace-Lafayette game played at Athletic Park, June 25, when McDowell, who was a spectator on the day in question, went on the field after the referee had ordered one of the Wallace players off the field and struck the referee a violent blow.

VARIETY

Some people thrill at contact with royalty or fame, but Pauline Frederick, popular Robertson-Cole star, whose new super-special production "The Mistress of Shenstone" at the Variety Theatre to-day, contends that she receives the greatest thrill of her life, when she is visited by a real, western cowboy.

Among her many friends, Miss Frederick is just about the "grandest gal in the world." No rodeo, that most inspiring of sights to the westerner, is complete without "Polly."

and hardly a day passes at the studio that a cowboy from the sunburned plains does not call to pay his respects to his favorite star.

A gift which Miss Frederick prizes very highly, came from one of her cowboy friends. It is a saddle, real man's size, of heavy leather and garnished with bright silver trappings, and it occupies a conspicuous place in a curio room which Miss Frederick has recently had added to her beautiful Beverly Hills home.

PRINCESS

To-night at the Princess the musical comedy is to be "The Stubborn Cinderella," a New York production of such recent success that it must still be fresh in the minds of many.

Miss Page will appear as Cinderella and James Coots as the man she falls in love with. Leeland Jaxon and Genevieve Berkeley are sweethearts, and have some dashing scenes in which Mr. Campbell as the "Hated Rival" will furnish his full share of the fun.

Byron Aldern, as the grouchy brakeman on the wrecked train in the second act, will add to the production. The singing and dancing numbers, all through the first act, quite up to what they should be, and the scenic effects from beginning to end are really equal to what might be expected of a big road production.

Another feature of to-night's entertainment is the cash prize of $5 for the one guessing nearest the correct number of words spoken by Miss Page in "The Time, Place and The Girl."

Little folks will love "The Stubborn Cinderella," and they can combine a pleasant afternoon's entertainment with profit to themselves if they send a guess in to Captain Kidd.

The enterprise of the California citrus fruit growers knows no limit. They would even tamper with biblical history to attain their ends, declares Joseph M. Schenck, who presents Constance Talmadge in "Mamma's Affair," the feature attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day.

A paragraph went the rounds of the papers that Mr. Schenck would feature the produce which takes place in the Garden of Eden.

Therefore, imagine Mr. Schenck's surprise when one morning a box of luscious oranges was delivered, express prepaid, at the studio in New York, where "Mamma's Affair" was being filmed. Accompanying the shipment was an official-looking document from one of the numerous local boards of trade, composed chiefly of fruit-growers. The letter was written in a serious vein by a horticulturist who claimed that research had revealed that the apple did not come into existence for several centuries after moving day in the Garden of Eden.

"It is high time," he wrote, "for the orange to come into its own. Have Eve partake of one of our oranges and name your price for displaying our box at the foot of the tree with the label turned toward the audience. If it is within reason, say twenty-five dollars, I can get the other growers to chip in and, besides, we will all go and see the picture."

As it was evident that the letter was written in good faith by a man who was unfamiliar with the ethics of the screen, Mr. Schenck wrote him a polite note asking him for the offer of the oranges, but explaining that convention compelled him to stick to the authorized version of the apple incident.

In addition to the feature Miss Eva Hart, so well known to Victoria audiences, will render in her usual artistic style two songs, "A Little World of Love" and "The Last Rose of Summer." A very funny comedy and Screen Snapshots making up the balance of a good entertainment.

DOMINION

Picture-play audiences are familiar with films which by clever use of double exposures, show scenes appearing in dual roles, both characters appearing on the screen simultaneously. But perhaps never has any motion picture camera man attempted anything so difficult as the "ghost stuff" in "All Souls' Eve."

Mary Miles Minter's latest Reelart picture, for which Mr. Dean operated, is a picture which plays two roles each entirely different from the other. She is mistress and maid, blonde and brunette, Irish colleen and American wife—superstitious peasant and sophisticated society hostess. Nor is that all. For she poses as artist's model; stands during several long scenes, on a pedestal as a completed statue, while admiring crowds visit the art gallery where the sculpture is being shown; dies, in one of her roles, a tragic death, and last but not least, acts in the spirit scenes above mentioned.

Shurely no motion picture actress has ever crowded more historic tasks in to one film than Miss Minter in "All Souls' Eve."

The play is an adaptation of a last season's stage sensation in New York. The original play was from the pen of the brilliant Anne Crawford-Flexner, and Elmer Harris arranged the screen version. With masterly direction and unusual photography, the film promises to be one of the biggest photoplay treats of the year, and is now showing at the Dominion.

One of the most prized gifts Mary Miles Minter has ever received (and she is the recipient of a constant stream of letters, telegrams, gifts and tokens, from admirers all over the world) is a sixteen carat Australian black opal, which the young star is having cut and set into a pear-shaped pendant. Picture fans will no doubt see the ornament in one of her next pictures.

The second of "The Bottom of the World" series is also shown at the Dominion this week. These pictures were made by Sir Ernest's own camera men, and thoroughly cover the expedition from the time it left Buenos Ayres until it returned to Valparaiso two years later.

This great South Polar expedition was not a trip to discover the pole. That had been done a short time before by Amundsen. The Shackleton expedition was for the sole purpose of obtaining scientific data and information regarding the great sea which surrounds the South Pole, and to add to the human fund of knowledge regarding this fascinating district.

The great mass of pictures and information which the expedition brought back labels it as one of the most fruitful quests which ever was pushed into either of the great ice caps.

HERE'S A TIP

ABOUT WINNING
THAT TEN DOLLARS

Did you read in The Times yesterday how you can win ten dollars next Saturday morning?

To the boy who asks "Have You Seen Alf's Button?" to the right party on the corner of Yates and Douglas Streets next Saturday, a reward of $5 in cash and $5 in tickets will be paid.

The button hunt will begin at precisely 11 o'clock and will last until the button is found.

In Vancouver a 14-year-old boy won the prize. He won it through persistence. "At first," he said, "I was a little afraid of asking people on the street, but I soon found that everybody was good-natured about it, and thought it was a huge joke. So I kept right on. There were some other boys close by me, but they didn't ask everybody like I did, with the result that they left the button holder walk right past them. But he didn't get past me, and I won."

There's a tip for you, kiddies. Faint heart never won fair lady, and a faint voice won't win the button. And, without the button, you don't get the ten dollars.

Step lively, kids. Boys only will be allowed to compete.

MONTREAL YAWNED, THEN SAT UP QUICKLY

If there is any city in Canada that's harder to please theatrically than Montreal, we're here to be shown. "Alf's Button," the famous British screen comedy, was not famous when it was first screened in Montreal, because it was not then known on this side of the Atlantic. The distributors decided to make no extravagant announcements or high-flown predictions. They simply screened it and said little. Within twenty-four hours after its premiere, the whole city was talking of the marvelous success of this Old Country super-feature comedy—and its fame immediately started to spread across the continent.

Since the Prince of Wales saw "Alf's Button" on board his ship in mid-ocean, nearly seven million subjects in all parts of the Empire have seen it—and have repeated in their own way the thought expressed by the young prince as he held his side, and said: "It is screamingly funny!" "Alf's Button" will come to the Pantages on Monday to Wednesday, twice daily.

PRISCILLA DEAN IN B. C.

Miss Priscilla Dean and her company of thirty motion picture artists reached Cranbrook on Tuesday, according to advice received here by Mr. Voshell, the business manager. The company will first work at Bull River, where some of the hair-raising episodes of the exterior work are to be filmed. The scenes around Cranbrook and Bull River are completed. During their stay the company will make several journeys between Cranbrook and Bull River.

Miss Dean was enthusiastic when informed of the scenic beauties and motion picture possibilities of British Columbia. She takes an active interest in her stories and locations. It was only through her ability and perseverance that in a few years she has come up from a little struggling ambitious girl, to a top notch in the film world.

The Universal Film Company is greatly responsible for this, inasmuch as they go to the extreme in cost and trouble to procure efficient directors

NEW MAPS SHOW LAND AVAILABLE FOR SETTLEMENT

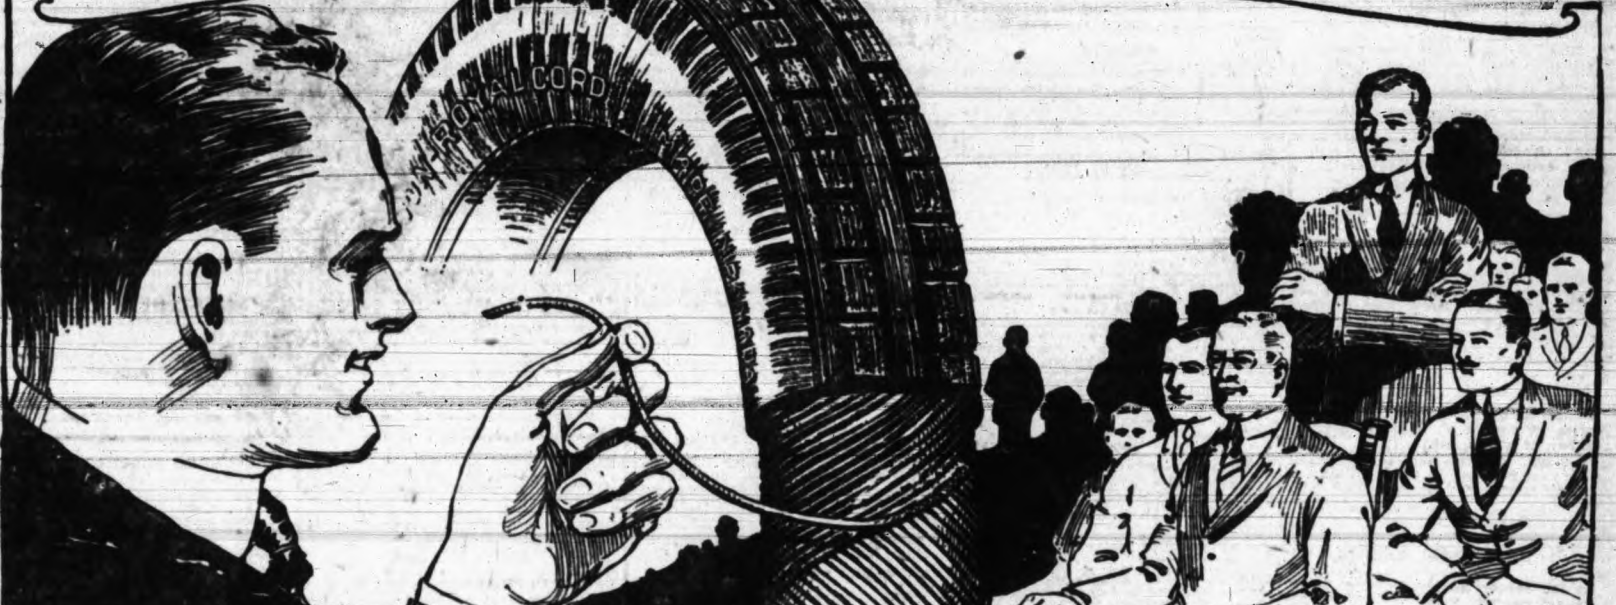

Great mining and other industrial development in the northern portions of British Columbia is shown in a new map of the Prince Rupert Land District which has just been issued by the Department of Lands. The map takes in the districts surrounding Prince Rupert as far north as the Portland Canal and the Anyox country. In view of the great mining activity which has commenced in these sections, the map will be of particular interest and usefulness at this time. It marks a number of the more important mining properties which are operating now, but its main purpose, of course, is to show intending settlers at a glance where they can secure good land. The blocks of land available for pre-emption are marked in distinctive colors so that settlers can see, with ease, where they can secure property. An issue of the Chilcotin sheet has also been put out by the Department.

DOMINION Tires

The Luxury of Motoring

is epitomized in "DOMINION ROYAL CORD" Tires. Easy riding becomes a happy reality when your car is equipped with these master achievements in tire building.

Bumps and jolts that make ordinary roads so uncomfortable are absorbed by these wonderful tires.

Why? Because of two "Dominion Royal Cord" features.

First—the marvellous "Royal Cord" construction, which consists of thousands upon thousands of slender, pliant cords—layer upon layer—yet each cord independent of all others—making a tire-structure so yielding and resilient as to take up the shock of ordinary road obstructions.

Second—these tires require less air-pressure than fabric tires. The lower air-pressure, flexibility and enormous strength of "DOMINION ROYAL CORDS" assure freedom from punctures, blow outs and the usual tire troubles.

These same features, which combine safety, comfort and luxury in motoring, also assure such greater mileage that "DOMINION ROYAL CORDS" are easily the most economical tires that can be put on any car, particularly the larger, heavier cars.

But the Dominion Rubber System does not stop with these master achievements in tire building. Dominion Tires are made for every car owner and in different treads for different conditions of work and roads—each tread the best that Canada's premier rubber organization can produce. No matter what size or make of car you drive, you will find the right tires for service and mileage in Dominion Tires.

The Best Dealers throughout Canada carry Dominion Tires, Dominion Inner Tubes and Dominion Tire Accessories.

Why?

Because costs you no more in labor outlay to apply and it lasts so very much longer. Another reason why good paint is an economy is because you can cover a greater area to the gallon.

one upon which this Board of Trade can now usefully concentrate its efforts.

In Municipal Affairs.

Few men, perhaps none, who have not been members of the Victoria City Council during its 59 years of existence have rendered greater service to this city. To him must the chief credit be given for the measure by which the Council enunciated a local improvement policy upon which it has built in later years, and which has been copied in other municipalities in the broad outlines. It had its genesis in the series of public meetings which were held in December, 1917. Mr. Shalloos outlined the plan of the Private Act of 1918, which set up a local improvement commission, and an assessment commission to revise the whole complicated situation. The measure was then given its legal requirements by R. W. Hannington, then city solicitor.

Mr. Shalloos gave unremittingly of his time during the passage of the measure through the House, and when the time came to choose the Local Improvement Commission, there could be no doubt that he was the right man for the chairmanship. With Messrs. Pauline and Forman he tackled one of the most thankless tasks undertaken at the City Hall, yet in three months they had dealt with many streets, and indicated a line of action for those cases which have hitherto staggered the unfortunate ratepayers thereon. No serious criticism has ever been forthcoming of the Commission's work.

Enters Municipal Life.

Before he became Chairman of the Commission, Mr. Shalloos had become a member of the Oak Bay Council, in 1918, continuing in that capacity until his death. While he did useful work in the district municipality, the fierce light of publicity has never turned on its meetings, and the principal value of the office of councillor gave him to the municipal life of this province, was the qualification it secured as member of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. He was a leading figure at the Fenwick and North Vancouver conventions of 1918 and 1919, and at the North Vancouver meeting, as chairman of the resolutions committee, he was one of the foremost members of the convention. He could easily have had the leading offices in the gift of the Union if he had not differed with the majority on their policy toward the Local Government, and so retired from the executive.

His Later Work.

At Boards of Trade meetings and similar bodies Mr. Shalloos had more recently given attention to the question of municipal bodies in their relation to hospital finance, and at that subject, as with so many he undertook, he showed the thorough knowledge which was his distinguishing characteristic.

True Man of Parts.

Mr. Shalloos was one of the best

Alberta Farmer Finds Relief
After a Search of Nine
Long Years

"For nine years I hunted high and low for a medicine that would do my stomach trouble some good, but never found it until I got hold of 'Tanlac,'" said Orval L. Waddell, a well-to-do farmer of Onaway, Alberta.

"When a man suffers as long as I did he certainly knows how to appreciate good health, and I am enjoying life now as I haven't done in years. I couldn't eat a thing without suffering afterwards. Sometimes my heart would beat like a triphammer, and I couldn't get much rest. For a long time I was bothered with awful pains in my right arm, and under my shoulder blades, and my back hurt me so bad, especially at night, that I couldn't get much rest. 'Tanlac' has put me in fine shape. I have a big appetite, eat anything I want, and never have a bit of trouble afterwards. I haven't a pain or an ache now, and sleep like a log all night long. I wish I could get hold of all the sick people far and near and tell them about it, for I know it will do for others just what it did for me."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, Campbell & Sons, high class Campbell and other drug stores. (Adv.)

TO STAGE GREEK PLAY AT ROYAL VICTORIA SOON

Beautiful Spectacle to Be Repeated in Leading Theatre

Encouraged by their unqualified success in presenting the spectacle at Gonzales Gardens, the producers of the Greek play "Danae" or "The Birth of Perseus" will stage it at the Royal Victoria Theatre on the evenings of July 11, 12 and 13, they announced today.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the production of the play, and it is expected that it will be quite as beautiful in the theatre as it was in the superb Pemberton gardens. The original cast, which scored such a triumph when the play was first produced will fill the various parts again in the theatre production. In addition, however, a large number of dancers, soldiers, goddesses and other players are being added to enhance the Greek atmosphere of the play.

Large numbers of people already have witnessed the beautiful extravaganza and so general has been the praise of the production that many others are eager to witness it. Many who enjoyed the play during its outdoor presentations, doubtless will attend again.

POLICE OF PARIS CARRY CLUBS IN PLACE OF SABRES

Paris, July 4.—The Paris police force is showing a change in its equipment, carrying clubs instead of sabres, replacing the small sabres that have been the principal arm of the municipal force here.

There is a serious lack of co-operation between the principal and his staff, the investigators assert.

As a result of these conditions, discipline among the students is poor and gradually has become worse, it is declared.

The meeting of the School Board to-night, it was stated at the Board Office this morning, will be open to the public. Consideration of the High School report will be the main item of business. About a dozen appointments to vacancies on the staff must be made also.

BOY SCOUTS HEAD TO LECTURE FRIDAY

Chief Commissioner Robertson at Summer School

Seizing the opportunity offered by the visit of Dr. James W. Robertson, Chief Commissioner of Boy Scouts for the Dominion, Director J. W. Gibson, of the Summer School for Teachers of British Columbia, now in session at the Victoria High School, has secured his services for the first of the Friday lectures to be held during the session. A lecture will be given each Friday night to which the general public are invited.

Dr. Robertson has not yet announced his subject, but as head of the Boy Scout movement for the Dominion he should have much to say that will be of special interest to the teachers. His ambition is to build up 100,000 membership of Boy Scouts during the next two years, and while in British Columbia, to revise the Provincial Council of Boy Scouts. About 100 students will attend the open air grand opera performance at the Willows to-night. A community picnic at Fowl Bay beach has been planned for Saturday afternoon.

falls in love with her and she with him, as find as her nature will allow, and when he tells her of the gayeties of Paris, she requires but little persuasion to elope with him to the capital.

The scenes change from simple country life to a Parisian apartment. There they separate for her lover in dependency resolves, to enter a monastery. The last scene occurs on the high road to Havre, where she is taken on board a prison ship for the new world, the French colony in Louisiana.

The Army and Navy Veterans' association desires to create a fund for the most urgent requirements for distress, and at a later date to carry on a development scheme, which will assist unemployment and the many things which follow in its train.

VIGOROUS FIGHT ON POLICE WAGES IS NOW EXPECTED

Council Determined Not to Pay; Police Board Demand Raises

A strenuous fight between the City Police Commission and the City Council over proposed police wage increases loomed up today following the decision of the Provincial Government not to interfere in the matter.

Members of the City Council claim that they do not have to pay the wage increases proposed by the Police Board, and that the Government has refused to interfere. The two Police Commissioners who voted for the increases—Dr. Ernest Hall and Joseph North—believe the Government's decision forces the Council to pay the increases.

I cannot speak for the Council, but I believe it will stand by its former decision not to pay the increases. Mayor Porter declared to-day, while Mr. North said "We certainly intend to fight for the salary raises." The law is plain on the point and we shall see that it is carried out or know the reason why," Dr. Hall declared.

City officials consulted the Municipal Act on the question this morning, but were unable to agree as to whether the Council must pay the increases or not. The Act states, in this connection: "The Board (the Police Commission) shall fix the remuneration of the police and the Council shall, subject to an appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, pay such remuneration."

The Police Commissioners believe that the decision of the Government not to interfere means that the city's appeal against the Commission's recommendations has been rejected. Therefore, they declare, the Council must proceed to pay the increases forthwith.

"I can't make a positive statement on the matter until I have received an official notification of the Government's decision," the Mayor explained to-day. "I am strongly of the opinion that the Council will not pay the increases, however. What will happen then I cannot, of course, forecast."

Consider Salary Acts.
We are not raising salaries in any other civic department, and I can't see any reason for raising the police. As a matter of fact, we are seriously considering cutting down salaries in other departments."

City Solicitor H. S. Pringle would not commit himself this morning. He said, however, that if the Government's announcement, he said, he could not form a definite opinion. The law governing the appeal, he admitted, was somewhat ambiguous.

He said, however, that if the Government had definitely and distinctly rejected the Council's appeal against the wage increase then, he thought, the Council would have to pay the increased salaries.

If the Council refuses to pay the increases the Police Commission, it is expected, will bring legal proceedings to force the Mayor and aldermen to act. If they were successful in such a suit the Council would have to pay the police increased salaries retroactive to the date of the Government's decision.

The question will come before the Council two weeks from now, the Mayor stated to-day.

INVITATION WEEK IS SET FOR AUGUST

No Proclamation, But Cordial Support of Government

The second week in August will probably be set for B. C. invitation week, Secretary J. G. Thomson of the Victoria and Island Development Association announced. The idea was fostered some time ago when a committee representing the Publicity Department of Vancouver, the Vancouver Board of Trade, and the Victoria and Island Development Association met Premier Oliver with the object of having a proclamation issued setting aside a week each year be designated as British Columbia invitation week. The object of the invitation week is to have the people of British Columbia make a special seven-days' effort to advertise the resources of the province. As many as possible would be asked to invite friends and relatives outside to pay them a visit during that time. Others would be asked to mail British Columbia publicity literature to friends outside the province.

Premier Oliver presented the suggestion of a proclamation being issued to the Executive Council and it was the opinion of the council that it should not be made the subject of time over a period of several months. The Premier has advised the Victoria and Island Development Association that the suggested invitation week has the hearty endorsement of the Executive Council.

Public boards, municipal councils and societies will be asked to co-operate in the effort for a special week of intensified advertising of the resources of British Columbia.

PREMIER AIDS FIGHT FOR LIFE

Lucerne Wants to Continue Existence, and Not Move to Jasper

Because Lucerne does not want to go out of existence, Premier Oliver to-day telegraphed to Ottawa, protesting to the Board of Railway Commissioners and to President Hanna of the Canadian National against the removal of the divisional point on the Canadian National from Lucerne, B.C., to Jasper, Alta.

This action was taken by the Premier following protests made to him by Delegates Blackstock and Wonnacott, of Lucerne, who arrived here to-day to get the Premier to help the people of Lucerne fight for the town's existence. They claim that if the divisional point is moved, the whole town of Lucerne will be destroyed, as there will be nothing to keep it going.

They presented a series of arguments to aid the town. They claimed that Lucerne has a right to have its existence continued, because the round house at Jasper will not accommodate the largest locomotives as the one at Lucerne will; combination of the divisional points will necessitate an increase of the round house space at either point; the turntable at Lucerne will accommodate the largest engines while that at Jasper will not; water at Lucerne is better than at Jasper; land to increase yardage can be bought at Lucerne at one-quarter the cost of land at Jasper; Lucerne is 22 miles nearer the places in the mountains where slides happen, which are west of Lucerne.

IDAHO GOVERNOR HERE WITH PREMIER

State and B. C. Governments Consider Reclaiming 100,000 Acres

Governor Baker, of Idaho, accompanied by W. Swendsen, of the Idaho Commission of Reclamation, arrived here to-day and immediately went into conference with Premier Oliver and the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, about the proposition to reclaim 100,000 acres of specially rich agricultural land in the Kootenay flats near Creston.

About one-third of the Kootenay flats is in British Columbia. The rest is in Idaho. The lands can't be made productive unless the reclamation scheme is put through, it was pointed out. But 14,000 acres of the Kootenay flats are in the Kootenay flats near Creston.

Idaho has already voted the money for the investigation of the scheme, the Government here learned.

The present discussions between the two Governments are only of a preliminary nature, with a view to determining the feasibility of the scheme, it was explained.

The work of reclamation will be carried on by the Idaho and British Columbia Governments jointly, but both the Canadian and American governments will have to participate because of its international nature.

DR. GOWEN CHANGES LECTURE SUBJECTS

Revised List Is Issued For Anglican Summer School

D., of the University of Washington, who is the principal lecturer at the Anglican Summer school to be held here next week, has announced a change in the subjects of the lectures he will deliver on the evenings of Monday to Friday inclusive at 8:30 o'clock in St. George's School, Rockland Avenue.

The general subject of the lectures is "St. Paul's Full Doctrine of the Christian," as given in the Letter to the Colossians. The course will include a series of five lectures, for which Dr. Gowen has submitted the following titles:

Wednesday, July 13.—St. Paul's answer: The Pre-Existence of Christ.

Thursday, July 14.—St. Paul's argument: The significance of the Death and Resurrection of Christ.

Friday, July 15.—The bearing of the Doctrine of the Incarnation upon human life.

Morning Programmes.
Lectures on Sunday School work by Rev. William Simpson will be given each night from Tuesday to Thursday inclusive at 7:45 p. m., as previously announced. The morning programme remains as before, with addresses or lectures from Dr. Craig, of Vancouver; Rev. D. M. Rose, of Kamloops, and Rev. Canon C. W. Vernon, general secretary of the Council for Social Service. From 9:00 to 10:30 p. m., a conference on "Right and Wrong Methods in some aspects of Pastoral Duty" will be conducted by Dr. Gowen.

Come to our NEW PERFECTION Oil Cook Stoves and Ovens Demonstration

It isn't necessary to nearly cook yourself every time you have to cook a big dinner, nor do you need a big fire just to boil a kettle. Use a New Perfection Oil Cook Stove and your kitchen will always be cool, because you can regulate the heat to your requirements and because all the heat generated goes into the food, not into the air.

The Long Blue Chimney burner is the secret. Come to our special demonstration and let us show you how simply, perfectly and economically the New Perfection Oil Cook Stove works. Make special note of the date and bring your friends.
